N-plant grabbed in Russia shocker

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

AFTER keeping the world on edge by bombing Europe's largest nuclear plant in Ukraine on Friday morning, which sparked a fire at a training facility on the site, Russian troops took control of the Zaporizhzhia Nuclear Power Station.

By noon, the fire was doused and the plant's staff continued working, reportedly under Russian gunpoint. The International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) later confirmed that the plant was safe and dispelled fears of a radiation.

Moscow's shocking aggression on the ninth day of its invasion of Ukraine drew furious reactions with Ukrainian president Volodymyr Zelenskyy accusing Russian leader Vladimir Putin of unleashing nuclear terror. "If there is an explosion, it is the end of Europe," said the Ukrainian leader, who may have fled to Poland according to unconfirmed reports in Russian media.

Ukrainian foreign minister Dmytro Kuleba said Russian ground forces fired at the nuclear facility from all directions and eventually took control of it. Three Ukrainian troops were killed and two wounded, said the Ukrainian state nuclear company.

The US, UK and France joined Ukraine in condemning Russia's 'reckless action' which British PM Boris Johnson said could "directly threaten the safety of all of Europe".

However, Russia denied having any role in the fire at the nuclear site and blamed Ukrainian sabotage groups. "The goal of the provocation at the nuclear station was to try to accuse Russia of creating a radioactive flashpoint," said Russian defence ministry spokesman.

IAEA's director-general Rafael Mariano Grossi said the plant's nuclear reactors are all safe and there was no spike in the radiation level.

Meanwhile, Russia continued to bomb Ukrainian cities on Friday. However, they could not make major breakthrough due to stiff resistance by Ukrainians. P11,14

No new taxes in budget of hope

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai presents his maiden budget for 2022-23 at Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru on Friday | EXPRESS

It was revenue surplus, but due to Covid-19 it has become revenue-deficit. Due to increased expenditure commitments with available resources, a revenue deficit of Rs 14,699 crore is estimated in 2022-23 compared to Rs 15,134 crore in 2021-22 — Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

AFTER tumultuous two years of the pandemic, it was hope that was shining through in Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's budget, which was presented on Friday with no additional burden of taxes and fuel surcharge on the common man. Understanding that the economy still needs crutches to recover from effects of Covid, he allocated Rs 55,657 crore to spur growth.

Despite it being a deficit budget with the size of Rs 2,65,719 crore, Bommai managed to apportion substantial sums to social welfare, agriculture and irrigation sectors, and also infrastructure. The agriculture and irrigation sectors were allocated Rs 33,700 crore, social welfare Rs 68,479 crore, heritage and culture Rs 3,012 crore and administration reforms Rs 56,710 crore.

With Bengaluru going to the polls anytime soon, the focus was on the capital city, which received Rs 8,409 crore for its comprehensive development, up from Rs 7,795 crore from the previous budget -- an increase of Rs 614 crore.

While the state government is yet to get clearance for the Mekedatu project, the chief minister announced Rs 1,000 crore. "There is a reason why the allocation has been made. We know at what stage the project is in," he said at a post-budget press conference, asked why the money has been sanctioned when the project has not yet taken off. Experts said it is a reaction to Congress taking out the padayatra from Mekedatu.

He released temples, which were substantial revenue grossers for the government, from the clutches of the Endowments Department that was the long-pending demand of temple administrations.

"Though states are allowed to borrow up to 3.5 per cent of GSDP (to help overcome the economic impact of Covid), we are restricting it to 3.26 per cent, showing our commitment to fiscal discipline," he said. P4

K'TAKA BUDGET 2022-23 DECODED

Polls on horizon, Bengaluru gets plump purse

Experts & officials say some announcements are extensions of earlier proposals, but now have set deadlines

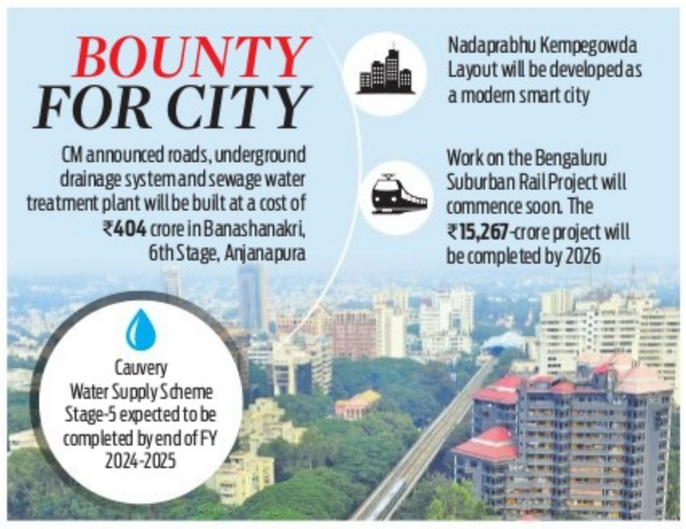
BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

AIMING to rejuvenate Bengaluru, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai allocated Rs 8,409 crore for the state capital to beef up infrastructure, green the city and improve citizens' convenience. The allocation is Rs 614 crore over last year's outlay of Rs 7,795 crore.

Experts and officials said some announcements in the budget are extensions of earlier proposals, but now have set deadlines.

They pointed to granting of Rs 1,500 crore to develop mega storm water drains and rajakaluves, that the CM made after assessing the ground situation, as he holds the Bengaluru Development portfolio.

To improve infrastructure, CM formulated the Amruth Nagarothana scheme and allocated Rs 6,000 crore for the next three years to focus on development of roads, grade separators, lakes and parks, besides solid waste management, street lights and slum development.



BOUNTY FOR CITY
CM announced roads, underground drainage system and sewage water treatment plant will be built at a cost of ₹404 crore in Banashanakri, 6th Stage, Anjanapura
Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout will be developed as a modern smart city
Work on the Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project will commence soon. The ₹15,267-crore project will be completed by 2026
Cauvery Water Supply Scheme Stage-5 expected to be completed by end of FY 2024-2025

Some experts were also critical of the budget allocation, saying it was done with an eye on the upcoming BBMP elections, with projects like converting 6 lakh B-Khata sites to A-Khata, skywalk at Banashankari junction at a cost of Rs 45 crore, and decongesting Goraguntepalya junction.

On reviving Bengaluru's green cover, one expert said: "CM has announced the formation of a tree park, but with a new name -- Atal Bihari Vajpayee Park -- on 350 acres of Jarakabande land in Yelahanka, on the Cubbon Park-Lal Bagh model. Tree parks are being renamed Green Expo on the Singapore model, on 105 acres of NGEF land to demonstrate eco-friendly technology."

Horticulture and forest officials stated that these projects were shelved six months ago due to opposition from locals, and wondered how the projects were included.

Srinivas Alavilli, Head, Civic Participation, Janaagraha, said: "There were a lot of expectations from this year's budget due to impending BBMP elections, but credit to the CM for not going overboard with promises that cannot be fulfilled due to lack of capacity. What Bengaluru needs is massive influx of funding for restoring lakes, and I don't see that in this budget."

Addressing the water needs of Bengaluru, the CM allocated Rs 1,000 crore to Mekedatu Balancing Reservoir project, and set a target of 2024-25 for completion of Cauvery Stage-5 project to bring 775 million litres of water to Bengaluru at a cost of Rs 5,550 crore, of which so far Rs 1,556 crore has been spent.

Naresh Narasimhan, noted architect, said the budget is comprehensive and focused. He said Bommai has tried to maintain a balance between ecology and economy, and given Bengaluru more attention.

Jewellery Park

A mega jewellery park will come up in Bengaluru under the PPP model, to provide employment to 10,000 people, facilitate goldsmiths, jewellery workers and micro and small enterprises. Experts said this was part of the Union budget's scheme to promote local industries.

GOOD EFFORT TO RAISE QUALITY OF EDUCATION, HEALTH

THE The Karnataka government is aspiring to spend Rs 40,944 crore during 2022-23 on child-centric issues. This is about Rs 2,500 crore more compared to yesteryears.

The highlight of Karnataka Budget 2022-23 from the child rights perspective is the Chief Minister's declaration to identify backward taluks and provide them the required support to develop -- improve quality of education in 93 taluks, strengthen health services in 100 taluks, and alleviate child malnutrition in 102 taluks with a substantial budgetary allocation of Rs 3,000 crore.

This is a welcome move as around 50 per cent of Gram Panchayats are said to be below the state average (2015, HDI study of GPs in Karnataka). Most of these backward GPs are in Kalaburagi and Belagavi (with some in Bengaluru and Mysuru) divisions where even the poverty indicators are alarming. Backwardness in education and health, nutritional levels as well as lower status of girls, child marriage, infant, child and maternal mortality are associated, and the decision of the government to make concerted efforts to raise education and health quality is most welcome. Another eye-catching element is the proposal to construct 1,000 Anganawadi buildings worth Rs 50 crore, while converging with MGNREGA scheme.

Dr Vasudeva Sharma NV,
Executive Director, Child Rights Trust, Bengaluru

Earlier, the state government had promised free education for girls till Class 10. In recent years, a lot of plans have been proposed to realise the National Education Policy. At the same time, we need to recall the promises made to children under the Right of Children to Free and Compulsory Education Act 2009, and Karnataka Rules 2012.

There is a steady decline in government reimbursement to non-government schools, which account for 25 per cent of seats at the entry level to children under Sec 12(1)c of the Act. The government needs to introspect on this and find solutions, while correlating the same with budgetary allocations and actual spending in earlier years. Added to that is the plight of children who have completed eight years of schooling under the RTE Act, and face impediments when they enter Class 9.

They have to either pay for their education or drop out from so-called private schools and join government schools. In the past three years, more than three lakh students have suffered because of this. We are all looking at National Education Policy 2020, expecting it will be a panacea for all school education-related problems.

The budget highlights the application of NEP 2020 in two sectors: developing curriculum for Anganwadis and school education at various levels, including teachers' education. Let us hope this will be a gamechanger, bridging learning gaps among children caused by the pandemic, bringing back school dropouts, and raising learning levels in rural and urban areas.

In the current context, apart from upgrading a certain number of schools as 'Model Schools', we expect all schools to be transformed into 'schools with child rights' by adopting the Child Protection Policy and programmes preventing child labour, child marriages and any other child abuse.

Education tops budget allocation, focuses on '3Es'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Education has taken centre-stage in CM Basavaraj Bommai's budget, with an allocation of 12 per cent, which is the highest among all sectors.

The budget relies on 3Es -- Education, Employment and Empowerment, and 'Sab ka Vkas'.

"Our objective is to increase the involvement and participation of all people in the state's economy. For this, we have adopted the 3E mantra – employment, education and empowerment -- for the uplift of weaker sections," he said on Friday.

> Our objective is to increase the involvement and participation of all the people in the state's economy. For this, we have adopted the 3Es mantra – employment, education and empowerment for the uplift of weaker sections
> Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister of Karnataka

Among numerous schemes and programmes to achieve the 3Es, a curriculum based on the guidelines of the National Education Policy 2020 will be formed in schools. It will be made for pre-primary, primary, secondary and higher secondary, as well as for teachers' training and adult literacy.

Under this, Anganwadis will also have a new curriculum for education, and child care of those between the ages of three and six, with Rs 30 crore allocated.

The initiative will be done in coordination with the Department of Women and Child Welfare Development and the Department of Public Education.

Meanwhile, various upgradations are slated to take place with the chief minister proposing that government schools with basic infrastructure be upgraded to 'Model Schools' at the hobli level.

Selected high schools will also be upgraded to pre-university colleges. Similarly, seven government engineering colleges will be upgraded to Karnataka Institutes of Technology, and will collaborate with foreign universities in future. Seven new model universities will also be established in educationally backward areas of Chamarajanagar, Bidar, Haveri, Hassan, Kodagu, Koppal and Bagalkot districts.

The budget also made provisions for free online coaching for those undertaking competitive examinations like KPSC, UPSC, SSC, banking, railway, CDS, NEET and JEE, among others.

Salaries have also been increased for midday meal and Anganwadi workers.

New Metro line from Sarjapur to Hebbal: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in the state budget on Friday announced a new 37 km Metro line between Sarjapur and Hebbal via Koramangala and Mekri Circle. The new line with 29 stations is estimated to cost Rs 15,000 crore and will have an underground corridor for 16.8 km and an elevated line for 18.6 km.

The Sarjapur route was meant to be part of Metro Phase-3 line of 105 km, but it was shelved in favour of a reduced network of 45 km last year. The work on preparing the detailed project report will start this financial year. BMRCL Managing Director Anjum Parvez said, "We will immediately start the work of calling for tenders to hire an agency to ready the DPR."

The CM extended the deadline of three months to the Outer Ring Road-Airport Line by announcing March 2025 as the new deadline. The DPR for Phase-3 will be submitted to the Central government for its approval, the CM added. This 45-km line to cost Rs 11,250 crore will cover 32 km on Outer Ring Road from Hebbal to JP Nagar and 13 km between Hosahalli and Kadabagere.

The CM announced connectivity between Bengaluru Metro and railway stations at Rs 55 crore. The connectivity would come up at Whitefield, KR Puram, Baiyappanahalli, Yesvantpur and Yelahanka. A skywalk will be built at Rs 45 crore at Banashankari junction to connect the Metro station with the bus stand.

PETER VIDAL

05th March : I know I've said this before, but Saturday is one of my favourite days. If you agree with me, it could be because the Saturnine principle is dear to your heart. That means you have plenty of self-discipline, and like getting on and achieving practical results rather than sitting around watching the world pass by. You can do that some other time!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There may now be no way you can maintain the peace. It must be said that there are times when arguments or harsh words are necessary if you are to clear the air and settle someone else's hash. But you do have to make sure that you have the right person in your sights.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Your obstinate adherence to your ambitions could be the cause of much friction. Are you really sure that now is the moment to force various issues, or do you think it would be better to bide your time? You may well do best to err on the side of caution.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It's time to get tough, yet I doubt if anyone can do so as charmingly as you. It's very much a question of the iron fist in the velvet glove, your firm resolve delivered in the nicest possible way. Your strength is, you see, that you are about to be proved right!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Passion is in the air. Certain personal encounters may be tremendously exciting. One or two experiences might be rather too blunt for your liking, though! Monetary affairs and expenses could be the only significant cause of discord but, even then, deeper emotional motives are most important.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Involvements which once seemed so desirable, no longer hold out the promise they offered at first. It looks very much, though, as if someone has seen through your little game. Perhaps you should have been more straightforward about your real, personal needs.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There is a lot to be said for keeping your distance yet, right now, I would advise you to move closer to other people, especially emotionally. It may not be easy to express your real feelings, but do have a go. If anything can be done to change a partner's mind, do it!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
A long-standing relationship or involvement has been going through a stressful phase, but you now have the opportunity to set matters straight. Domestic repairs should be a priority if good feeling is to be restored. Get practical problems fixed and other questions will be resolved.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You have certainly done a great deal to safeguard your long-term health and security. If other people have also benefited from your efforts, you may expect a word of thanks. However, you may have to accept that gratitude is not an emotion that partners are likely to feel.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You're happiest when everything is out in the open. This is why you may not have an easy time when the causes of current problems lie deep in the past, perhaps in a partner's background rather than yours. This is even more reason why you should try to be sympathetic and understanding.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Adverse aspects to planets in strategic sectors of your solar chart are pushing you into getting your act together properly for a change. This particularly relates to your willingness to share information and discuss plans with the people whom matter most.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Stand your ground, but don't expect partners to back down. The best solution might be an honourable compromise in which you both agree to pursue your separate goals. An amicable reconciliation will then be the next step. That will leave you free to get back together when you wish.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Pisces, the peacemaker, should be making his, or her, appearance today. People will be snapping at each other for no other reason than that it seems easier than being nice. Stand above such petty squabbles, and try to make friends and family members see that there is no reason why they shouldn't get on.

BUDGET COULD'VE TAPPED MORE REVENUE SOURCES

After the rude shock of the pandemic, the Indian economy suffered significantly in terms of growth, employment and loss of human life, and Karnataka was no exception. Even then, the state could resurrect and get on to stable path of growth with GSDP recording 9.5% growth, contributed by agriculture (2.2%), industry (7.4%) and services (9.2%).

Usually, the Economic Survey precedes the budget, but this time, it happened simultaneously. There is an uneasy feeling that there may be efforts missing on the revenue side, with budgeted revenue put at Rs 189.9,000 crore. This is just marginally (0.16%) ahead of the revised estimate for 2021-22. At the same time, the intended expenditure is Rs 204.58 crore, 4.48% higher than last year. The revenue from state taxes is estimated at Rs 131.88 crore, almost Rs 5,000 crore less than the 2021-22 estimate.

What was the reason behind this? Have new tax avenues dried up? Tobacco products and the stamp duties could have been tapped, besides some disinvestment. In the pre-budget discussions, eyebrows were raised about the accumulated debt and borrowings. This year, the borrowing was 27% of the total revenue, as against 29% in the 2021-22 estimate. This was feasible due to increased share of grants and taxes from the Central Government.

Prof R S Deshpande
Visiting Professor, ISEC, Nanjundappa Chair Professor CMDR, ICSSR National Fellow

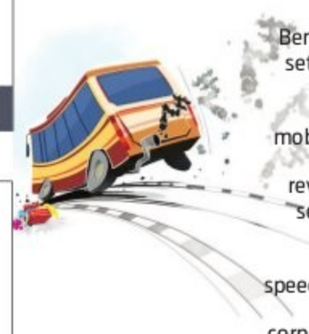
In his budget speech, the CM emphasised on triple 'E' — Education, Employment, and Empowerment. Inclusive development seems to be the byline of arguments in the budget. The allocation for education is pegged at Rs 31,980 crore, higher than the previous budget. The CM also incorporated allocation for the Mekedatu project on popular demand. The new textile park and good infrastructure development funds for Bengaluru for skywalks, railway corridor and new housing projects will help create employment.

On the capital account side, the situation could be balanced only because of the open market borrowing of Rs 67.91,000 crore. This is besides the Centre's grant and borrowings from institutional sources. With all these adjustments, the CM could peg the revenue deficit at Rs 14.69,000 crore, higher than the revised budget estimate of last year.

On the flip side, revenue sources like cigarettes and tobacco products have not been properly tapped. Secondly, the allocations are not focused therefore, many schemes may not yield immediate results. Third, the important issue of rural workforce migrating to urban areas and causing stress on the economy, is not attended to. This could have been done with focus on rural industrialisation. Lastly, it is high time that North Karnataka gets investment boost in terms of industries. These may act as catalysts of development.

TRANSPORT

HIGHER REVENUE TARGET SET FOR DEPARTMENT



Bengaluru: The Karnataka budget 2022-23 has set Rs 8,007 crore as revenue collection target for the transport department, after the pandemic impact saw reduced resource mobilisation and its failure to meet its target in 2021-22. For the financial year 2021-22, a revenue collection target of Rs 7,515 crore was set for the department, but by February-end, only Rs 5,960 crore of revenue could be mobilised. Reading out his maiden budget speech, CM Basavaraj Bommai said that in 2021-22, exemption was given to state transport corporations from paying motor vehicle taxes to help them recover from the pandemic impact.

RENEWABLE ENERGY

STATE LOOKS TO RAISE GREEN ENERGY OUTPUT

Bengaluru: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has announced increasing renewable energy sources in the state with the implementation of a 2000 MW capacity underground storage centre in the Sharavathy basin at an estimated cost of Rs 5,391 crore and installation of 10,000 solar-based irrigation pump sets at a cost of Rs 227 crore. This year, Bommai has announced formulating a Green Hydrogen Policy under the Centre's National Green Hydrogen Mission. He also announced creating 5,000 MW hybrid renewable green energy parks in eight districts.

DECODED

IT'S A GROWTH-ORIENTED, SENSITIVE BUDGET: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who presented his maiden budget on Friday, termed it as being growth-oriented and sensitive, benefiting all sections of society, while also aiming to protect the environment. "I call it a sensitive budget, as it aims to protect the environment; quantify the loss of green cover and address the eco deficit by the eco-budget. This is being done for the first time by our government," the CM told reporters at a press conference after the budget presentation.

Explaining the measures announced in his budget, the CM said the monthly honorarium given to acid attack victims has been increased from Rs 3,000 to Rs 10,000, 10 chemotherapy centres will be opened to serve cancer patients, dialysis cycles provided by the government increased from 30,000 to 60,000, and the government will also provide free eye treatment for senior citizens. The CM also said the honorarium paid to ASHA workers, Anganwadi workers and helpers, mid-day meals cooks and helpers, gram sahayakas has been increased by Rs 1,000.

"The budget focuses on employment, education and empowerment (3 E's), and by doing so, we tried to provide the impetus for future growth," he said, and added that they have given priority to agriculture, manufacturing and service sectors.

After two years of Covid-related disruption, the signs of recovery in the economy are clearly visible. The tax revenue collection that began in a sluggish manner, with the onset of the second wave of the pandemic at the start of the financial year 2021, has picked up, the CM said, adding, "We will reach the target in GST collection, Excise and non-tax revenue."

Meanwhile, he also expressed confidence that the government will start the Mekedatu balancing reservoir project this year, by taking required clearances from the Centre. The CM said Cauvery Water Management Board meeting will approve DPR for the project, and once that is done, the terms of reference for environment clearances will be obtained. "The government wants to start the work this year and that is the reason for initial allocation of Rs 1,000 crore for the project," he said.

₹100 crore for Veerashaiva board

THE state is planning to borrow Rs 72,000 crore for the present financial year. Last year, while the government had proposed to borrow Rs 67,100 crore, it was restricted to Rs 63,100 crore, the CM added.

Stressing that 3Es -- Employment, Education and Empowerment of the backward classes -- are at the heart of his budget, Bommai announced an integrated employment policy and allocated Rs 400 crore to implement various schemes for backward classes. He set aside Rs 100 crore each for Veerashaiva Lingayat and Vokkaliga development corporations. The Maratha Development Corporation too got Rs 50 crore.

Bommai announced Pancha Mantra - Comprehensive economic and social development, upliftment of weaker sections, identification of backward regions, achieving higher development in agriculture, industry and service sector and lastly to build Nava Bharathakkagi Nava Karnataka (New Karnataka for New India).

The total tax revenue of the state including GST compensation for the year 2022-23 is estimated to be Rs 1.31 lakh crore.

IRRIGATION

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

EVEN as the estimated cost of major irrigation projects, including the Upper Krishna Project phase-3, Upper Bhadra, Kalasa-Banduri, Mekedatu, and Yettinahole, runs into several lakhs of crores of rupees, the funds set aside for the same by CM Basavaraj Bommai in his maiden budget is meagre.

Experts feel that the funds for the said projects cannot be spent, especially on projects like UKP-3, Mekedatu and Kalasa-Banduri, which are caught in legal tangles. As far as the Mekedatu project is concerned, a petition from Tamil Nadu is pending before the Cauvery tribunal. Even if the DPR is approved, the work can be taken up only after the Centre gives environmental clearance.

According to sources, "To prevent the Congress from taking any mileage from its recent Mekedatu padayatra, the CM has set aside Rs 1,000 crore for Mekedatu project."

Speaking to TNIE, Mohan Katarki a Supreme Court advocate, opined: "Given the scale and estimated cost of the irrigation projects, the funds allocated appear symbolic. The UKP-3 project should have got at least Rs 10,000 crore annually."

Agriculture sector gets ₹33,700-cr boost

FARMERS

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

THE maiden budget of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai carries a clear green stamp, ostensibly to appease farmers. The CM has come with some smart initiatives to check the Opposition parties with substantially increased funds for the farm sector and also with the introduction of new programmes.

Apart from reintroducing the Yashaswini health insurance scheme and other programmes, the allocation of Rs 33,700 crore for agriculture and allied sectors aims to increase farmers' incomes. Bommai, who had announced scholarships for children of farmers soon after assuming office, announced the Raitha Skathi programme providing Rs 500 crore to encourage the use of farm machinery. To reduce the fuel expenditure burden on farmers, for the first time in the state, diesel subsidy of Rs 250 per acre was announced, subject to a maximum of 5 acres.

The Krishi Yantradhare Centres will now be extended to all hoblis to make farm machinery affordable to small and marginal farmers. A Directorate of Secondary Agriculture was announced to enable value addition to primary agricultural produce and create more marketing opportunities with the help of farmer producer organisations.

Karnataka, which has brought two lakh acres under natural farming, aims to further increase it through agriculture/horticulture universities, and take up Pradhana Mantri Krishi Sinchayee Yojane (watershed development component-2.0) with assistance from the Centre.

The CM announced establishing new agricultural colleges at Kagari in Ballari and plans to brand tur dal, mainly cultivated in Kalaburgi and Yadagiri, under 'Bhima Pulse'. To bring more women towards farming, the Krishi Prashasthi and Krishi Pandita Prashasthi awards will be presented.

Bommai has also set aside Rs 50 crore for commissioning of MySugar factory in Mandya. The government plans to increase horticulture cultivation and will develop a multi-purpose 'Atal Bihari Vajpayee Park' on 350 acres of government land in Jarakabande area near Yelahanka on the lines of the Lalbagh and Cubbon Parks.

34,000 TEMPLES TO GET AUTONOMY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai, in his maiden budget speech, proposed to withdraw government control over temples in the state, by giving autonomy to those that come under the Endowment Department. "There was a long pending demand to do away with government control on temples. Necessary legal action will be taken to delegate development work for the temples," said Bommai.

Karnataka has over 34,000 endowment temples. Of them, 175 are Class A temples, with an annual revenue of above Rs 25 lakh, 158 temples are Class B with revenue between Rs 5 lakh and Rs 25 lakh, while others are Class C with annual revenue of under Rs 5 lakh.

Earlier, at a BJP executive meeting, the CM had indicated that he would bring a law to make temples autonomous and free from government control.

Aspirational taluks need proper planning, implementation, say experts

INFRA

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai, presenting his maiden budget on Friday, proposed to identify 'Aspirational Taluks' that are left behind in health, education and nutrition verticals and allocated Rs 3,000 crore for their development.

"Keeping in mind the Covid impact on health, education and nutrition, we will identify taluks which are performing below the state average on various developmental indicators under NITI Aayog and other Sustainable Development Goals," he said.

Higher priority will be given to these aspirational taluks under programmes of various departments to ensure outcome-oriented efforts. The allocations will be for improving the quality of education in 93 taluks, strengthening health services in 100 taluks and alleviating child malnutrition in 102 taluks.

A PHC will be identified in each of 100 aspirational taluks and will be upgraded to 25-bed Model Community Health Centre in two years at a cost of Rs 1,000 crore. However, Dr Giridhara R Babu, a public health expert and epidemiologist, said, "Developing these primary health centres is only part of the work. Strengthening the existing PHC services through efficient staffing and referrals continues to be a challenge."

To address malnutrition among children, rehabilitation centres will be set up in these taluks. Rs 500 crore has been allocated to develop infrastructure in government schools, with 'Aspirational Taluks' being priority. Though health experts welcomed the concept of 'Aspirational Taluks', they were worried about other districts being ignored and lax implementation of the project. "If the majority of the money is shared by the taluks below the margin, there may be a few which have just crossed the margin and still need more improvement. It can be potentially dangerous to divert resources. There needs to be equity in budget allocation for such programmes," said Dr E Premdas Pinto, Faculty (Public Health), Azim Premji University. Providing human resources in these places also worries the experts. "ASHA workers are the backbone of the public health system. If our salaries are increased only by Rs 1,000, how will we be motivated to work? A minimum salary of Rs 12,000 should be fixed for us. Unless the health staff reach every household and assess various parameters, these aspirational programmes won't work," said Rama Kumari, an ASHA worker.

State burdened with loans, says Congress

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

OPPOSITION leader Siddaramaiah has slammed the budget as a boastful exercise. "There is a lot of false and incorrect information. Over the past few years, they have burdened the people with more loans. This has been their greatest achievement," he sarcastically remarked.

"The state's total debt from independence till 2018-19 was Rs 2,42,000 crore. This will rise to Rs 5,18,000 crore by March next year. Interest on loans was Rs 13,000 crore in 2017-18, and now, it is over Rs 29,000 crore. The BJP government has borrowed Rs 2,66,000 crore during the last four years," he noted.

Opposition leader in the Council, B K Hariprasad, said, " Basavaraj Bommai has announced a please-all budget with allocation for all sectors. But there is no road map on how resources for this will be managed. It is evident that none of these allocations and announcements can be fulfilled as the state's finances are in dire straits. This budget is presented keeping the upcoming elections in mind. How can resources be managed for these big ticket announcements? If the Centre does not provide funds, managing finances for these schemes is impossible and these announcements will remain on paper."

JDS leader H D Kumaraswamy slammed the government saying the Mekedaatu issue is held up because it has not received clearances from the Central Water Commission.

"Merely allocating Rs 1,000 crore in the budget is just an eyewash. How can they execute it without the mandatory clearances," the former CM questioned.

Backward classes upset with allocation

SOCIAL WELFARE

RANJANI MADHAVAN @ Bengaluru

EVEN with the Karnataka Government claiming "highest priority for holistic development of the state and for the welfare of weaker sections", opposition political parties, Dalit groups, and activists are unhappy with the budget allocation made for the Scheduled Castes (SC), Scheduled Tribes (ST) and Other Backward Classes (OBC) this year.

CM Basavaraj Bommai said that each year, 24.01% of budgetary allocation is reserved for SC/STs as per norms. For the current year, Rs 28,234 crore is allocated under SCSP/TSP (Scheduled Caste Sub-Plan/Tribal Sub-Plan) budget, which is Rs 2,229 crore higher than the previous year's allocation. In a press meet, he stated that the allocation was in fact exceeding the norm, at 24.6%.

Calling the budget allocation an eyewash, Veena S, president of Swaraj India, Bengaluru Urban, and a Dalit transwoman, however, said: "Last year too, thousands of crores were diverted from the sub-plan funds to developmental activities. We demand that no paise allocated under the SCSP/TSP plan budget this year, should be diverted to other projects."

K'TAKA BUDGET 2022-23 DECODED

Cheers! No tax hike, but excise revenue target jumps ₹4,420 cr

EXCISE

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

THE liquor industry heaved a sigh of relief when Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, in his maiden budget speech on Friday, announced that there would be "no increase in tax for 2022-23" but when he spelt out the revenue target of Rs 29,000 crore for the Excise department for the said FY, the industry could see the writing on the wall.

"The unprecedented jump of Rs 4,420 crore from Rs 24,580 crore, which was the previous year's revenue target, is unrealistic without increase in Additional Excise Duty (AED) on alcohol, even if they improve sales," said sources on condition of anonymity.

Bommai, addressing the media soon after presenting the budget, said with the economy back to pre-Covid days, he is optimistic about revenue generation. "Last year was a pandemic year. We hope to do better this year in terms of revenue generation. We will also plug any pilferage," he had responded, while addressing a media query on the hike in Excise revenue target. The department contributes over 20 per cent revenue to the state exchequer.

The Excise Department contributes over 20 per cent revenue to the state exchequer

This is the first time that the revenue target of State Excise has seen such a sharp jump in the history of the department, added sources. A look at revenue targets of the department in the last few years show a gradual increase, ranging between Rs 1,000 crore and Rs 1,500 crore every year. The hike this time is close to 18 per cent over the previous year, which is the highest.

The annual financial target for 2020-21 was Rs 22,700 crore, and Rs 24,580 crore for 2021-22. For 2019-2020, it was kept at Rs 20,950 crore and Rs 19,750 crore for FY 2018-19.

Alcohol in Karnataka is priced and taxed according to its slab. There are 18 Excise slabs, with the cheapest alcohol falling in the first slab, and the most expensive Indian Made Liquor (IML) in the 18th slab. "The AED on expensive alcohol in Karnataka is the second highest in the country, and lowest for cheapest liquor," sources added.

There are over 10,097 Excise licencees in the State. They had made several representations to the government requesting not to hike AED this year, citing business losses in the two consecutive pandemic years.

From plans to attract investors in labour-intensive sectors like textiles, toy manufacturing, FMCG, leather production, food processing, and jewellery to building eco-friendly integrated townships, the budget has given importance to industrial development. The budget proposes to encourage industries in Chitradurga, Davanagere, Haveri, Dharwad, and Belagavi, which fall in the Chennai-Bengaluru-Mumbai (CBM) Economic Corridor. Karnataka Special Investment Region Act related to mega-industrial regions will be formulated, while Plug & Play infrastructure facility will be created in flatted factory concept.

FKCCI lauds boost to industries in CBM Corridor

Welcoming the budget, FKCCI president IS Prasad said Bommai has allocated Rs 55,657 crore for economic development. "We hope that the CM will consider all our demands to support MSMEs for its revival. While we are happy to note that there is no increase in taxes, we expected the budget to provide relief/reduction of license fees and taxes to the affected industries," he said, adding that the move to encourage industries along CBM corridor is a welcome move.

Consider past experience: KASSIA to government

Terming the budget a please-all effort, KASSIA administrator P Shashidhar praised the CM for the focus on jobs, intent to provide incentives to industries, and setting up various industrial parks in Bengaluru, Belagavi, Kalaburagi, and Dharwad. "The government has to take into account the past experience of many implementation bottle-necks stalling the policy goal while implementing textile parks in Kalaburagi and Vijayapura," he said.

People-friendly budget: Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw

Executive Chairperson of Biocon and Biocon Biologics, Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw said the budget is comprehensive and people-friendly, which focuses on economic growth despite the perils of the pandemic. "I welcome the strong infrastructure focus on the upgradation of Bengaluru, including the extension of the Metro. I commend the long-term investments in education as well as capacity building of tertiary-level institutes...," she said.

TOURISM

AMIT S UPADHYE @Hubballi

WITH an eye on improving eco-tourism along Karnataka's coastline, the State Government has decided to approach the Union Government seeking relaxation in the Coastal Regulation Zone norms.

While CRZ rules specify no development up to 200 mt on the shore, several tourism developers have been seeking permission to create facilities closer to the shore. The announcement in the budget has once again renewed the hopes of eco-tourism operators in the coastal districts.

On Friday, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai also announced setting up an eco-tourism centre at Tadadi port. The government has also announced Rs 2,000 monthly remuneration to 400 tourist guides working in Hampi and other tourism sites.

In order to boost tourism in the state, Bommai also said that the Central Government's 'Adopt a Monument' scheme will be popularised in Karnataka.

Rs100cr for Anjanadri Hills

The government has set aside Rs 100 crore for the development of Anjanadri Hills in Koppal district. The site is considered the birth place of Lord Hanuman. The government will also provide all assistance to set up regular heli tourism in Hampi. Nearly 30,000 devotees, who will make a trip to Varanasi, will get funds from the government. Similarly, beneficiaries will get Rs 5,000 for tour packages to Tirupati, Dharmasthala, Kollur, Kukke Subramanya and Mantralaya.

Big boost for sandalwood, jumbo control

FORESTS

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @Karwar

CHIEF MINISTER Basavaraj Bommai's maiden budget has made high allocation for conservation and conflict mitigation, including a programme to revive sandalwood conservation and protection. A sum of Rs 100 crore has been allocated for the mitigation of man-elephant conflict in Hassan and Kodagu region, where farmers are facing frequent elephant raids in Madihalli in Alur taluk, Magodu and other villages in Arkalgud taluk in Hassan district, Virajpet, Madikeri and other places. Bommai also allocated Rs 850 crore to boost coastal tourism and make beaches free of plastic.

A sum of Rs 5 crore for management of conservation reserves will ease the department's burden, they said.

The government has also decided to encourage the cultivation, protection and conservation of sandalwood to regain the glory of 'Gandada Gudi'.

SEED FUNDING FOR STARTUPS GETS ₹12CR TOP-UP

STARTUPS

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

IN order to promote and enhance the startup and technology ecosystem across Karnataka, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, in his budget speech, said Beyond Bengaluru Cluster Seed Fund for startups would be established in Mysuru, Mangaluru and Hubballi. These will be on the lines of cluster managed by Karnataka Digital Economy Mission (KDEM) at an expenditure of Rs 20 crore. He also said that a grant of Rs 12 crore would be provided for this project in the current year.

This announcement comes at a time when Karnataka is producing many unicorns (a startup with $1 billion valuation). Stressing on Karnataka's startup-friendly ecosystem, Bommai said there are 34 startups in Bengaluru with a net worth of over $1 billion.

Karnataka has over 13,000 technology startups and many of them are focused on deep-tech and Artificial Intelligence (AI).

Recently, IT&BT Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan said that the State Government would provide seed funding of Rs 50 lakh for 200 startups.

Beyond Bengaluru, an initiative of KDEM, is aimed to enhance the growth in the IT/ITeS, BPO, Electronic System Design Manufacturing (ESDM) and Telecom sector industries located in emerging technology clusters of Karnataka.

Bommai also said that Karnataka has secured fourth place in the country in the ESDM sector, as over 300 manufacturing units contribute nearly 10% of the overall production in the country's electronics and services.

Also, with an aim to promote women entrepreneurship, women-led start-ups, and to increase the presence of women in business, the chief minister said under the 'Elevate' scheme, start-ups identified by the Karnataka Institutes of Technology would be provided Rs 10 lakh loan through Karnataka State Women Development Corporation.

Apart from these initiatives, Elevate-Kalyan Karnataka will also be organised to select 25 innovative startups in the Kalyana Karnataka region in collaboration with Kalyana Karnataka Region Development Board (KKRDB), he said.

'Invest Karnataka – 2022'

Bommai also announced that to attract investments to Karnataka, Global Investors Meet 'Invest Karnataka – 2022' will be organised from November 2-4, 2022.

Meanwhile, Bangalore Chamber of Industry and Commerce president K R Sekar welcomed the budget presented on Friday, and said these initiatives will encourage startups.

STRONG GROWTH, JOB GENERATION PUTS K'TAKA IN TOP 5 LEAGUE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE latest Economic Survey for Karnataka puts the state among the top five states in India, and has recorded that the state has demonstrated strong growth over the years.

Karnataka's per capita Gross State Domestic Product of Rs 3.05 lakh, estimated for the financial year 2022, is the highest among the top five states. A standout feature of the state economy is that it has the highest share of services in the gross state value addition of 66.1 per cent in FY 2022.

It is the highest among all states, a product of its robust IT services industry and other technology-driven areas. Karnataka is also a major job generator, having produced 10 per cent of formal jobs in the country, while contributing 8.8 per cent to the National Gross Domestic Product and constituting less than 5 per cent of the population.

The state has certainly done well in the past but now, post the Covid-19 pandemic and resulting recessionary effect, there is a need to re-orient its strategies by studying particular needs of its citizens, its demographics and sectoral composition which each state must do now. Karnataka can be a leader to demonstrate to other states how a high-growth strategy can be formulated, based on data analysis.

Evacuation on, students to reach Russian airport

ARUNKUMAR HURALIMATH @Hubballi

EVACUATION of stranded Indian students began at Bezliudivka, about 20km from Kharkiv city in Ukraine, over the past two days. Parents heaved a sigh of relief as the Indian embassy is in touch with the students.

To escape attacks in war-hit Kharkiv, around 1,300 distressed Indian students, including those from Haveri, are taking shelter in a school in Bezliudivka. These students, who were not able to get seats on trains from Kharkiv, went to Bezliudivka on foot after the Indian embassy asked them to move there for safety. They were given some food and water and are also getting rest, claimed the parent of a student from Haveri.

On Friday, around 500 students went to the Russian border in buses arranged by the Indian embassy. There, 130 buses are waiting to evacuate the stranded students, said Venkatesh Vaishyar, from Chalageri village of Haveri district. His son, Amit, is in Bezliudivka.

After the immigration process, the remaining students will also be taken to the Russian border from where they will reach Belgorod airport in Russia. Flights will be arranged for the students, he added.

Chikkamagaluru students in touch with family

Chikkamagaluru: Seven medical students from Chikkamagaluru, who are stranded in war-torn Ukraine, are in regular contact with their family in India. Nanadakumar of Venkateshwaranagar and Arun of Church Road, both in Kadur, Pooja of Muttyanagere village in Kadur taluk, Tanuja of Alaghatta, Manoj of Hoodigarahalli, Vaibhav S Nadig of Chikkamagaluru city, and Pradwin of Aldur Hosahalli are reportedly safe. Indresh, father of Manoj, told TNIE that he had spoken to his son on Friday morning. "Manoj told me that he is safe and has left for Budapest from Kharkiv," he said. Vaibhav's father Dr Srinivas said his son told him that he and others trekked 25 km from Kharkiv.

3 students reach Ballari, 2 more to be back today

Ballari: All five students from Ballari, who were stranded in Ukraine, have returned to India. While three, including two sisters, came back home on Friday, two others are expected to reach Ballari from New Delhi on Saturday.

Demands to shut quarry ignored: KRRS

LOCAL residents said that some of the labourers may be trapped inside the boiler.

It is said that migrant workers form Uttar Pradesh and Bihar were working at the quarry for some years now. Officials could not get full details of the labourers as the owner of the quarry and the person who had taken it on lease have gone missing.

The district administration has summoned NDRF personnel and a dog squad for the rescue operation.

The operator of an earthmoving equipment, Francis, who was rescued, said some ten people were working at the site when the tragedy occurred. "I am not sure how many are trapped," he added.

Huge boulders crashed on an earthmover at Madahalli in Chamarajanagar taluk

SP Shiva Kumar said they have arrested manager Naveed. A video clip of the incident showed some 10-12 people running away from the quarry and the rescue operation will give a clearer picture on the number of dead and trapped, he added.

KRRS leader Madappa alleged that the quarry operations were being carried out in four acres of land, while permission had been given for one acre. Repeated demands to shut the site were ignored for the last 10 years, he added.

Deputy Commissioner Charulatha said the NDRF, police, fire and health department officials are involved in the rescue operations and have pulled out five people. The district administration has sought a report from Mines and Geology department experts on the incident, she said.

K'TAKA BUDGET 2022-23 DECODED

Aiming for health, wellness at grassroots

32 district, 49 taluk and 37 nutrition rehabilitation centres to take care of malnourished children

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH the pandemic on the wane, the Karnataka budget's focus is on secondary and tertiary care, mainly non-communicable diseases, and bringing healthcare closer to homes. The allocation of Rs 13,982 crore (5% of total budget) to the Health and Family Welfare Department for 2022-23, is an increase of 17.41 per cent over last year's allocation of Rs 11,908 crore for the health sector.

The state has announced setting up of 'Namma Clinics' and 300 women health centres.

Meanwhile, with the focus on addressing malnutrition among women and children, those with moderate malnutrition will also be added to the Sristi and Ksheera Bhagya Scheme. Besides, 32 district centres, 49 taluk centres and 37 nutrition rehabilitation centres will be established to care for malnourished children. Fortified rice with added nutrients like iron, folic acid, Vitamin B12 would be distributed at a cost of Rs 93 crore in 14 districts of the state on a pilot basis, under the programme 'Poushtika Karnataka'.

To ensure cardiac and cancer care is available at the taluk level to rural people, 75 taluk hospitals will be mapped with Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research. For North Karnataka, a regional cardiac centre of Jayadeva Institute of Cardiology will be established at a cost of Rs 250 crore in Hubballi. Meanwhile, Kidwai Regional Cancer Centre will come up at a cost of Rs 50 crore in Belagavi.

Each of the 100 aspirational taluks will be upgraded with 25-bed model community health centres in two years, at a cost of Rs 1,000 crore. To provide well-equipped medical facilities at the taluk level, seven taluk hospitals will be upgraded to 100-bedded hospitals. The government has increased the existing dialysis cycles per month to 60,000. For this purpose, an additional Rs 20 crore has been allocated.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Govt hospitals with more than 200 beds would be converted into teaching hospitals
- Mental health programmes in Kolar, Chikkaballapur and Bengaluru Urban districts with support of Nimhans
- 76 essential life-saving services to accident victims, within 48 hours of admission
- Private air ambulance services for emergency medical services
- Infusion Centres in 10 select institutes to provide chemotherapy
- Mobile clinics in Bidar, Chamarajanagar, Haveri and Chikkamagaluru
- New Ayurveda college in Savanur
- Monthly honorarium of Asha volunteers to be increased by Rs 1,000

Namma Clinics will take healthcare to doorstep

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai's announcement of 438 'Namma Clinics' (our clinics) seems to be on the lines of Mohalla Clinics in Delhi. The purpose of these clinics, according to him, is to ensure that healthcare reaches the doorsteps of the urban population, and plugs critical gaps in the public health system.

The clinics, also to be known as 'health and wellness centres', will be set up in Bengaluru's 243 BBMP wards and 195 others will be spread across major cities of the state.

"These centres are mainly being set up to ease detection of non-communicable diseases and also act as referral treatment to specialists. They will have a yoga centre, teleconsultation, regular screening for NCDs such as hypertension and diabetes. A medical officer, staff nurse and two-member support staff will be posted at each health centre," informed BBMP Health Commissioner Dr KV Thrilok Chandra.

Mobile clinics are also being planned in Bidar, Chamarajanagara, Haveri and Chikkamagaluru.

BIG PLUSES

FOCUS ON CARDIAC, MENTAL HEALTH, NAMMA CLINICS

THE budget presented by the honourable Chief Minister for this year seems very balanced, taking into consideration the fact that there was a significant impact of Covid and natural calamities during the year.

As far as healthcare aspects are concerned, there is an increase in allocation from 4 per cent to 5 per cent this year, and the focus is on primary care, preventive care, rural health, children's nutrition and maternal well-being.

The development of aspirational taluks, with emphasis on upgradation of primary health centres and also taluk hospitals would help in delivery of healthcare in rural areas, which is the backbone of our country. Nutrition of children is another very important aspect, as detection and treatment of childhood nutrition would save many lives.

The emphasis on detection of non-communicable diseases at Namma Clinics is an important step forward, as non-communicable diseases are now the leading cause of death in our country. The other important aspects of the budget that deserve mention are extension of the free dialysis scheme from 30,000 to 60,000 dialysis per month, which will help a large number of patients with kidney failure from the socio-economically weaker sections of society.

Dr Sudarshan Ballal
Chairman, Manipal Hospitals Group

The plan to map cardiovascular diseases in many taluks, in association with the Jayadeva Institute of Cardiology, will help tackle the significant problem of cardiovascular diseases in our population.

The proposal to organise mental health programmes in association with Nimhans in various districts is a welcome move, since mental health issues have grown exponentially during the pandemic. Proposals to provide essential life-saving health services through the Suvarna Arogya Suraksha Trust, mobile clinics in some districts to provide rural care, Shuchi scheme to promote menstrual health, requisitioning services of specialists from medical universities for rural healthcare and providing eye care for senior citizens below the poverty line are commendable measures.

Focus on the much-needed organ donation is a welcome move, as is the move to promote air ambulances, which saved many lives during the corona pandemic.

The announcement of a new prison in Bengaluru Rural will help decongest prisons. The budgetary provision for modernisation of prisons is also a welcome move

Home dept cheers budget bonanza

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE Home Department has got a big push after a long time. From a grant of Rs 250 crore for the second phase of police housing scheme to Rs 50 crore for mobility, a new all-women company of Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP), strengthening of forensic science laboratory units in the state, new prison in Bengaluru Rural district, state-of-the-art jammers and equipment in prisons, increase in life insurance coverage for fire personnel from Rs 1 lakh to Rs 20 lakh and setting up of a new State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) unit in Davanagere, the budget has a bouquet of grants and new schemes. DG&IGP Praveen Sood thanked the CM for making these provisions in the Budget, which, he said, will "help in bettering the police infrastructure and policing."

Regarding the setting up of a new all-women KSRP company (around 100 personnel), the top cop said it is much required. "In the last few years, we are seeing more women in the forefront of protests. There are not enough women in the reserve police for managing women-led rallies and protests. We had requested the government to sanction an all-women KSRP company, which they have thankfully granted," said Sood.

"The grant for mobility will help us in phasing out old police buses and vans of over 15-year vintage. The Budget also made provisions for strengthening of forensic science laboratories in the districts, which is much required," he added.

DGP, Fire & Emergency Services, Amar Kumar Pandey welcomed the increase in insurance cover for firemen. "The personnel put their lives in the service of the people without any hesitation. They definitely deserve better insurance coverage," he said. The setting up of an SDRF unit in Davanagere will be helpful in providing timely help during any emergency in Shivamogga, Chitradurga, Ballari and Haveri districts, he added.

KERALA CPM'S TRYST WITH NEO-CAPITALISM

The CPM's state conference that concluded on Friday will be noted in history for the comprehensive roadmap for Kerala presented and debated in detail. The document formalises the party's pragmatic shift from ideology to aspirations of the new world. The document, titled 'CPM's Perspective on New Kerala', exhorts the party and the government to look towards attracting maximum private investment in all sectors, keeping in mind Kerala's development in the next 25 years.

The CPM-led LDF government has identified improving ease of doing business as a key focus area and already initiated steps to amend obsolete legislations. On his part, CM Pinarayi Vijayan told the delegates about the need to make trade unions behave. Going one step further, the document envisions making each public sector enterprise a profit centre and talks about employees working hard along with management to achieve that target—an unfamiliar concept for communist parties and trade unions. Public-private participation in the higher education sector is another radical change that has been proposed. Till now, the party and feeder organisations of students and teachers were opposed to any effort for academic autonomy.

The document has also attracted criticism, primarily for its lack of focus on sustainable growth and social justice. There are concerns that ecological issues are neglected and social equity is undermined. But the CPM made it clear it is only a blueprint that will be fine-tuned after a larger debate. The shift should be seen as a step in the right direction for the party. It certainly looks like the CPM has responded constructively to the expectations of the people, who rewarded it with a consecutive second term in power. However, this historic moment should serve as an occasion for introspection for the party. Several of the proposals in the document had been suggested by the previous UDF government. At that time, the CPM unleashed violent protests and its student wing even manhandled the vice-chairman of the higher education council alleging that he had been trying to bring private universities to the state. While embracing the capitalist turn, the party should at least apologise to Kerala for the growth it stalled for years in the guise of protecting the ideology.

NOVEL INITIATIVE A BOOST FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH

On February 14 this year, a new initiative got a major push in Bengaluru. It promises to usher in a breath of fresh air in medical treatment and research, integrated with science and engineering. Two MindTree co-founders and their wives jointly made one of the largest-ever private donations of ₹425 crore to India's premier scientific institute, the 113-year-old Indian Institute of Science (IISc), to set up a 800-bed hospital with an attached medical school and laboratory, which will offer a six-year dual MD-PhD programme.

The initiative is being touted as a pioneer in India with a hospital-cum-medical school functioning in an integrated manner to enable medical research while offering quality treatment to patients—a trend common in the sphere of medical education and research in the West. The facility, expected to be functional in two years, will allow seamless integration of clinical practices and laboratory research to help create a generation of hybrid physician-scientists well versed with practical and academic aspects of medicine. The timing of this concept couldn't have been better, considering that it is taking shape while the country is just getting out of the third wave of Covid, having learned valuable, albeit hard, lessons from the pandemic.

With a large philanthropic involvement and proactive medical and research-oriented objectives, the concept can serve as an example for such institutions to crop up all over India. Not only will such hospital-cum-medical schools offer affordable opportunities to students aspiring for fulfilling careers, it will also significantly encourage medical science and research. This would directly benefit society within India and abroad. Tie-ups with similar institutions abroad and research exchange programmes yielding valuable knowledge exchange could propel medical research to higher levels. More importantly, closer collaborative involvement of government agencies with facilities like the one coming up on the IISc campus could go a long way in making medical treatment more easily accessible for people in remote rural areas.

No head of a Western government has condemned China's border aggression against India. Yet the Western bloc demands that India be firmly on its side over Russian aggression

PERILS OF A 'WITH US OR AGAINST US' APPROACH

BRAHMA CHELLANEY
Geostrategist & author of nine books, including the award-winning "Water: Asia's New Battleground"

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Russia's invasion of Ukraine is just the latest example of "might makes right". Despite claims to the contrary, the world has never had a rules-based order. Just consider the history of this century, especially the number of military invasions of sovereign states that have occurred since the year 2001.

International law is powerful against the powerless, but powerless against the powerful. Both the Russian invasion and the West's no-holds-barred retaliatory economic war against Russia, including practically expelling it from the Western-led financial order, mock a rules-based order.

Yet this conflict holds global implications, with the potential to remake our world, including spawning the polarisation of both the world economy and international politics.

As a new Cold War dawns, the US appears to be returning to a "with us or against us" approach. This promises to bring countries that take an objective and balanced view under intense pressure. It is also likely to complicate, if not strain, American ties with countries that insist on remaining neutral or taking a more nuanced approach than Washington's black-and-white portrayal of the situation.

In echoes of a familiar Manichaean logic, US President Joe Biden's administration is seeking to prod India to be on America's side against Russia by implicitly asking, "Are you with us or against us?"

Team Biden has bristled at India abstaining from the United Nations votes to condemn Moscow, including at the Security Council on February 25 when Russia vetoed a US-sponsored resolution deploring the invasion as a violation of the UN Charter. India, however, has implicitly criticised Russia's abandonment of the path of diplomacy and repeatedly called for an end to all violence.

According to the US-based news website Axios, the State Department has recalled a strongly-worded cable to American embassies instructing them to inform India and the United Arab Emirates that their neutral stance on Ukraine put them "in Russia's camp". American diplomacy has a record of using media "leaks" to convey messages or warnings. In 1998, to spoil India's ties with China, the White House leaked Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee's letter to President Bill Clinton about the Indian nuclear tests.

The Axios story ended by saying that India "has faced allegations—rarely discussed by the US in public—of democratic backsliding and repression of religious minorities". The implication is that, unless New Delhi falls in line, the Biden administration could start discussing such allegations in public.

American pressure has already compelled the UAE to reverse course. After abstaining in the Security Council, it voted in support of the March 2 non-binding resolution in the General Assembly condemning Russia. However, 35 countries abstained on the General Assembly resolution, including all of India's major neighbours, while a further 11 didn't vote at all.

Here's the paradox: No head of a Western government has condemned China's nearly 23-month-long border aggression against India or even urged Beijing to pull back the nearly 2,00,000 troops it has massed along the Himalayan frontier in violation of binding bilateral accords. Yet the Western bloc demands that India be firmly on its side over the Russian aggression against Ukraine, which is a member of neither NATO nor the European Union.

When Donald Trump was the US president, his top officials, including Secretary of State Mike Pompeo and National Security Adviser Robert O'Brien, regularly blasted China's aggression against India, calling it "incredibly aggressive action", "unacceptable behaviour" and part of a "clear and intensifying pattern of bullying".

The Biden administration, having placed outreach to Beijing as a high priority, has been wary of publicly supporting India against the Chinese aggression.... Even in the India-Pakistan context, Team Biden isn't firmly on India's side. It has hedged its bets by retaining Pakistan as a 'major non-NATO ally', despite America's humiliating defeat in Afghanistan at the hands of Islamabad-backed Taliban terrorists

But the Biden administration, having placed outreach to Beijing as a high priority, has been wary of publicly supporting India against the Chinese aggression. Biden hasn't uttered a word on that aggression. Indeed, Biden's recently unveiled "Indo-Pacific Strategy" refers to China's military actions against India since 2020 not as "aggression" but in neutral language — as "the conflict along the Line of Actual Control with India".

Even in the India-Pakistan context, Team Biden isn't firmly on India's side. It has hedged its bets by retaining Pakistan as a "major non-NATO ally", despite America's humiliating defeat in Afghanistan at the hands of Islamabad-backed Taliban terrorists. Biden's failure to impose any penalties on Pakistan also explains why that country is still missing from America's list of state sponsors of terrorism.

Yet now Team Biden demands that India side with the US against Russia over Ukraine, which historically has been viewed by Moscow as its strategic buffer. Its unstated message to India is: "Do as I say, not as I do".

India's measured response to the Russian aggression enjoys bipartisan support at home. For India, the US has increasingly become an important strategic partner. But Moscow, which rescued India half a dozen times by vetoing UN Security Council resolutions over the decades, remains an equally important friend.

Had India voted with the Western bloc to condemn Russia, it would have burned its bridges with a country that remains a critical source of weapons and military technology in projects ranging from the Brahmos missile to nuclear submarines. To help shore up India's defences against China, Russia has advanced the delivery of its S-400 air and anti-missile system.

The US values its strategic autonomy. So should India. Undermining ties with Moscow would make India dependent on America, whose unpredictability is legendary. The US is already bagging billions of dollars worth of Indian arms contracts every year. Yet it is working to make India its sole arms client, including by seeking to leverage its domestic law—the 2017 Countering America's Adversaries Through Sanctions Act (CAATSA)—to downgrade New Delhi's defence ties with Moscow. Given the advent of the new Cold War, it is likely to step up that effort.

India now holds more annual military exercises with America than any other country. The US has already overtaken Russia as the largest arms seller to India. New Delhi wishes to further deepen its ties with Washington. But such cooperation cannot be exclusionary.

A "with us or against us" approach that seeks to compel India to make a choice between the US and Russia will only bring the blossoming Indo-American relationship under strain.

THE WHY AND HOW OF CIVIL SERVICES REFORMS

VINAY SAHASRABUDDHE
President, ICCR, and BJP Rajya Sabha MP

One of the many reforms, silently introduced and vigorously followed up by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, is about doing away with the monopoly of civil services officials on our public administration edifice. In October 2019, Anoop Kumar Mendiratta was picked from a pool of 60 candidates to become the first serving judge to be appointed Union law secretary. Earlier he had served as district and sessions judge at the Karkardooma courts in the capital. Now, in a recent development he is set to become a judge in the Delhi High Court. Before him, Vaidya Rajesh Kotecha, a Padma awardee and former VC of Gujarat Ayurved University, was appointed secretary of the Ministry of Ayush in July 2017. During the last four and a half years, he has galvanised this department remarkably.

Another important feature of these reforms is loosening the iron grip of IAS on various positions of joint secretaries to the Government of India. Currently, at least over a dozen joint secretary-level officials are from IRS, railway service and a few even from the forest service.

All these are very welcome and long-awaited moves. Sadly, even after the post-Independence conversion of ICS into IAS, it failed in bringing about a more indigenous element in it. This was because no substantive attempts were made to link IAS with our very own and essentially Indian philosophy of public administration. As a consequence, the transformation of ICS to IAS ended up being just in the abbreviations. What remained almost unchanged was the core of the content of training of IAS and also the conduct of services officials. The governance philosophy of the likes of great Indian administrators like Arya Chanakya, Rajendra Chola, Harihara and Bukka of Vijayanagara fame, Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj or Sayajirao Gaekwad continued to be largely ignored even after Independence.

Add to this the systemic flaws in the rigid, steely framework of the civil services, and the need for a massive overhaul becomes all the more clear. These flaws include the needless and excessive element of security inbuilt in the framework, lack of specialisation proving detrimental to the overall performance of the officers and thirdly, absence of any systemic mechanism to ensure an uninterrupted supply chain of motivation and a strong sense of purpose. Governments after governments allowed these flaws to continue as this suited their political interests.

To start with, the thick and enduring firewall that protects civil services personnel needs a relook. Generally speaking, once one enters the prestigious club of civil services, there is literally not just no looking back, but no looking around and more importantly no looking within. This security cover makes them insensitive to and unconcerned about people's expectations; the heady cocktail of superiority complex and arrogance afflicts their thinking; and more worryingly this security cover provides them a sense of permanency in power vis-a-vis their politician bosses. The behaviour of several civil services officers shows their total disregard for transparency and accountability. Little wonder, one rarely comes across examples of some of them being removed from the 'club'.

To start with, the thick and enduring firewall that protects civil services personnel needs a relook. Generally speaking, once one enters the prestigious club of civil services, there is literally not just no looking back, but no looking around and more importantly no looking within. This security cover makes them unconcerned about people's expectations

The other area that demands reform is specialisation. Administrative officials are supposed to handle several issues that require specialised know-how. How can a secretary, steel and mines, today, be expected to handle an assignment as secretary, culture, tomorrow? While generalists also have their importance, in today's world it would be practical to segregate IAS officers in at least four-five important groupings like education-culture, finance, infra development with natural resources, and social ministries like social justice, labour, women and children, etc. This would bring greater domain knowledge to the table and empower officers for a more enlightened and insightful decision-making.

Thirdly, an inbuilt mechanism to ensure periodical de-thick-skinning through re-inculcation of sense of purpose and motivation is also needed. Excessive security breeds insensitivity and lack of concern. In a very short span of time, strugglers of yesterday filled with idealism become a part of the 'establishment' today. To avoid this, periodically held experience-based and practical-knowledge centric innovative examinations may help.

Having said all this, it must be mentioned that the PM's initiative of Mission Karmayogi is set to overhaul the entire civil services sector. It is bound to be a historic shake-up. A glance at the themes of the six pillars of this mission speak for the entire gamut of issues covered under this transformational move. These pillars aim at making civil services more transparent and tech-based, creative and constructive, imaginative and innovative, proactive and polite, professional and progressive, and finally energetic and enabling. An archaic and obsolete edifice of civil services is set for metamorphosis. Less protectionism, more specialisation and regular sensitisation also need to be taken care of in this process.

CPM's admission of failure

It is clear to an impartial observer that the CPM, in its state meet, has jettisoned some of the policies and programmes that the party has been embracing so far. The rethinking is in itself a testimony to the untold disaster that the party's policies have caused in the state. The CPM's well-oiled propaganda machinery will now go hammer and tongs to sell this as a uniquely progressive people-friendly decision.

Intimidation by UP CM

It is surprising that the Election Commission of India has not taken note of bulldozers being parked in rallies being addressed by the Uttar Pradesh chief minister. Is this not a threat? Is it fair to allow bulldozers near the venue of election meetings? Will this not send a wrong signal and create fear: 'vote for the ruling party or else...'. Never in the history of Indian elections have we seen such a way of threatening a particular section of voters.

Benefit of hindsight

There has been criticism against the government that it should have taken action to airlift Indian citizens from Ukraine when there were indications that Russia could attack the country. The government had issued advisories earlier to the citizens that it would be advisable for them to leave the country. However, the government did not itself make arrangements to airlift the Indian nationals, which it did only after the country was invaded by the Russian forces. It is always easy to comment with the benefit of hindsight, but no one could have predicted that things would come to such a sorry pass.

From TN to Europe

The TN chief minister has announced that a special team of MPs, MLA and IAS officers from Tamil Nadu would go to countries like Hungary, Romania and Slovakia to speed up evacuation of Tamil students who have taken shelter there from Ukraine. Does it mean that the team would pick up only those students hailing from TN and leave out the remaining ones to fend for themselves? When the Ministry of External Affairs is making all-out efforts to evacuate all Indian students, what's the logic in individual states being concerned about people of their own state only?

WITH WATER RUNNING OUT, TRAPPED INDIAN STUDENTS IN SUMY MELT SNOW

About 700 students left with limited food supplies and erratic power supply, many suffered health breakdown

ANKITA UPADHYAY @ New Delhi

CAUGHT in the war without basic essentials and supplies, Indian students at Sumy State University in Ukraine are melting ice to use for the purpose of drinking.

Around 700 Indian students from the university are stuck in Sumy, about 350 km away from Kyiv, have not got permission to leave the city to reach Russia which is barely 48 km away.

The water crisis had forced many of them to walk for 2-4 km to scout for hand pumps in order to fetch water. "Till yesterday we were walking for 2-4 km to get water, but thankfully it snowed and now we are melting snow," said Dummasiya Mariyah Munaf, a fifth-year MBBS student. Mariyah hails from Gujarat and says that her advocate mother is disturbed on learning her troubles.

Food is running out of stock but a pharmacy store run by an Indian is providing potatoes and other eatables which are being prepared in bulk to save for extraordinary circumstances. "Whenever there is an air-raid siren, we hunker into the bunkers. Many students have suffered asthma attacks... For the last nine days, many students also have hypertension and suffering from panic attacks," says 23-year-old Tandel Smruti Natvarbhai, another fifth-year MBBS student from Navsari, Gujarat.

She adds that they are also arranging inhalers for asthma patients.

Electricity is discontinued every night after air raids and during the day as well because of which they are also not able to charge their phones properly, she says. My father is continuously going to Gandhinagar to meet officials for evacuation."

Several videos of students are already doing the rounds on the social media showing the state of panic due to the constant sound of gunfire and air sirens.

Many students say that no one from the Indian embassy has contacted them so far. "Whenever we call them either the line is busy or the phone gets disconnected," adds Shruti Tyagi, a third-year MBBS student from Panipat, Haryana.

She says that the groups were informed that around 130 buses are standing on the Ukraine-Russia border for evacuation but there is no response neither from the Indian government nor Ukrainian officials.

"We have packed our bags and are waiting to go now but someone should at least convey. Even the contractors are trying their best but they cannot do much," Shruti adds, as she collected her thoughts to give updates of the group stuck in a hostile zone.

Defexpo postponed; IAF exercise cancelled

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

IN the wake of the Russia-Ukraine armed conflict, the government on Friday announced postponement of the 12th edition of Defence Expo while the IAF has cancelled its triennial exercise Vayushakti, scheduled on March 7.

Citing logistical problems for postponement of the four-day Defexpo 2022, defence ministry spokesperson A Bharat Bhushan Babu tweeted, "The Defence Expo 2022, proposed to be held in Gandhinagar from March 10 till March 14 is postponed due to logistics problems being experienced by participants. The new dates will be communicated in due course."

The biennial defence exhibition was scheduled to be inaugurated by PM Modi.

Defexpo began in 1996 and has been growing in profile, with the number of participating foreign and domestic companies rising with every event. This edition was expected to see more than 900 exhibitors from over 55 countries.

Among foreign countries, the US had booked the largest space at the pavilion. Over 50 defence ministers and heads of armed forces had confirmed to attend the event.

Vayushakti was to be the IAF's largest-ever exercise, with 148 aircraft set to take part in the event.

IMA writes to Modi for help

New Delhi: Expressing concern about the future of medical students who have returned home from Ukraine, the Indian Medical Association has recommended to Prime Minister Narendra Modi that they be adjusted in India medical schools as a one-time measure. In a letter to Modi on Friday, the Association stated that such students should be permitted to go to Indian medical colleges for the remainder of their MBBS course through an "appropriate disbursed distribution", but it should not be seen as an increase in the annual intake capacity. PTI

EMBASSY YET TO CONTACT: INJURED STUDENT'S FAMILY

ANKITA UPADHYAY @ New Delhi

NONE from the Indian embassy in Ukraine has contacted so far regarding their injured son in Kyiv, said the parents of Harjot Singh who was shot four times while on his way to Lviv.

A student of Kyiv's International European University, Harjot was forced to flee Kyiv due to the Russian invasion. His parents say Harjot was shot four times — two on legs, one on shoulder and one on chest — on February 27.

"Harjot boarded a cab along with an African student and two Ukrainians for Lviv. The cab was stopped at a check post and Harjot was shot at the very moment he opened the door," says his mother Prakash Kaur.

It is, however, not known whether Ukrainians or Russians shot him.

The 30-year-old student is recuperating at a hospital with a fractured leg and gunshot wounds. "For four days, he remained unconscious. We were a nervous wreck. We neither ate nor slept properly," says the teary eyed mother. "All his belongings, documents, phone are missing. Even the car and its occupants are untraceable."

Kesar Singh says the doctors at Kyiv City Hospital gave his son a phone to contact the family. "Harjot says doctors and hospital staff are providing utmost care but he wants to leave Kyiv at the earliest as explosions are happening every hour."

Efforts to contact Indian embassy officials in Ukraine were futile. "The Ukraine embassy asked us to contact Indian embassy but no one has contacted so far. When I contacted our area councillor, he asked me to provide all the documents which he will give to the MP so that it can be forwarded to the minister concerned," says Singh.

The family lives in Delhi's Chattarpur area for the last 40 years. Singh owns a shop while his wife stitches clothes.

The Indian embassy is close to the hospital but no one has met Harjot so far, Singh says. "Only the media has reached out. None from the government has come and asked us about Harjot's situation."

Centre will bear medical expenses of injured student: MEA

New Delhi: The Centre will bear expenses for medical treatment of Harjot Singh who sustained multiple bullet injuries in Kyiv. "Govt of India will be bearing expenses for Harjot Singh's medical treatment (in Kyiv, Ukraine.) We are trying to ascertain his medical status... Our embassy is trying to get an update on his health status...trying to reach out but facing trouble as it's a conflict zone," MEA spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said at a press conference. Bagchi asserted that the government is not aware any Indian being held hostage. "They are facing difficulty due to security reasons particularly in Kharkiv, Ukraine, but no hostage situation," said Bagchi. Bagchi also reiterated that the government will continue Operation Ganga till the last person is evacuated. "Over 20,000 Indians have left the Ukraine border since we issued our advisories."

1,000 Indians still in conflict zones: MEA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AS many as 20,000 Indians have left Ukraine but around 1,000 are still to be evacuated from conflict zones, the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) said on Friday.

MEA spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said 300 Indians are stranded in Kharkiv while 700 are in Sumy.

"Roughly 2,000-3,000 (more Indians) are likely to be there (in Ukraine), the number can vary," Bagchi said, adding, "Our primary focus is to get students out of conflict zones."

Addressing a media briefing here on Friday, he said India is in constant touch with both the Russian and Ukrainian sides to explore ways for their safe passage, including a local ceasefire. "We are exploring all options — buses, trains, or whatever we can manage to arrange to rescue our people," Bagchi added.

Fifteen flights landed in India as part of the evacuation mission during the past 24 hours, bringing back more than 3,000 nationals. Sixteen flights are scheduled for the next 24 hours, he said.

Panic buy in Punjab, farmers stock diesel to cut costs

CHANDIGARH: As crude oil prices soar to record highs, panic buying of diesel has started in Punjab with a 70 per cent rise in sales as compared to the same period last year.

People fear that the prices of fuel will be hiked once the poll results of five states, including Punjab, are out on March 10.

Adding to the chaos is the approaching harvest season. Farmers are stocking diesel for machines used to harvest the standing wheat crop.

Petroleum companies say that the sale of diesel is up from 1,09,600 KL in the February 22 -28 period last year to 1,85,900 KL this time.

"Out of the total sales of diesel, around 30 per cent is bought by the farmers as they run their tractors, generators and other equipment for agriculture," said an official of a petroleum company. Apart from farmers, the official said, various industries have stocked diesel.

In rural areas, it is now a common sight to see farmers standing in queues to fill diesel in their tractors. They are also bringing drums of 100 to 1,000 litres to save on fuel bills.

"As the crude prices have surged in the last 10 days, it is going to have a cascading effect on the retail fuel prices in India as India imports about 80 per cent of its oil requirements," said Ashwinder Singh Mongia, executive member of Petrol Pump Dealers Association. "The rates of petrol and diesel are likely to increase by ₹10 to 12 per litre. This has triggered panic." Harpreet Bajwa

India needs new direction, efforts: KCR

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

CONCERTED efforts must be made to give a new direction to the country which is yet to develop on expected lines despite 75 years of Independence, Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekhar Rao said on Friday.

Rao had a thorough discussion with his Jharkhand counterpart Hemant Soren at the latter's residence over the political developments taking place in the country.

Talking to the mediapersons after the meeting in Ranchi, KCR said that strong efforts must be made to put the country forward by giving it a new direction and purpose.

"The government (at the centre) is not being run properly. We are making efforts to make it right which is also a responsibility of every Indian," said the TRS chief, adding that he held discussion with Soren on the issue.

"Therefore, we are very clear that strong efforts must be made to put this country forward by giving it a new direction... Discussion for which is still on," said KCR.

He, however, asserted that this was not a front against any particular party or organisation.

The TRS boss conceded that he was in contact with several other political parties and organisations in this regard.

Once they sit together, he said, a plan would be chalked out whether to form a separate front or something else. "I must make it clear that no front has been formed so far. What shape it will be, shall be known only after a meeting is held with other leaders," said the Telangana chief minister.

KCR again reiterated that he and his colleagues were making efforts to make a new and better India. "Something new needs to be done."

Earlier before the meeting, KCR also gave ex gratia of ₹10 lakh each to the family members of jawans Kundan Kant Ojha and Ganesh Hansda from Jharkhand who were killed in action at the Galwan Valley in a standoff with the Chinese troops in 2020.

Former Army chief Gen SF Rodrigues passes away

Cong seeks re-polling of postal ballots

DEHRADUN: The president of Uttarakhand Congress has urged the EC to order re-polling of postal ballots in the state. "The postal ballot voting should be conducted again in the presence of the agents of all political parties to ensure fair voting," said Ganesh Godiyal, state Congress president. This comes a week before the counting of votes, which is scheduled on March 10. The controversy over postal ballot started after former chief minister Harish Rawat posted a video showing a man casting postal votes of others.

EC urged to act against BJP's Manipur move

NEW DELHI: Ahead of the second phase of polling in Manipur on Saturday, a Congress delegation met the EC on Friday and urged it to ensure a free and fair poll on account of the "intimidation" of voters by militant outfits. The delegation comprising AICC senior observer for Manipur Jairam Ramesh and party leader Salman Khurshid met the CEO and submitted a petition seeking action against the BJP-led state government for releasing funds to militant groups under the suspension of operation agreement.

MANIPUR will go to the final phase Assembly polls on Saturday against the backdrop of sporadic incidents of violence.

The poling will be held in 22 constituencies, 11 of them straddling across two valleys and as many in the tribal-majority hills.

After the first-phase election on February 28, opposition parties had accused the ruling BJP of using militant groups in peace mode to threaten voters and capture polling booths.

The fear of the gun looms large also in the second phase, particularly in the hilly constituencies of Tengnoupal and Chandel. After the first-phase polls in the hill district of Churachandpur, the militants had brutally beaten up five persons for voting in favour of a certain political party. Photos of their bruised bodies had gone viral.

In 2017, the Congress had won 12 of these 22 seats — eight in the Imphal Valley and four in the hills. The BJP had bagged three seats — two in the Imphal Valley and one in the hills. The Naga People's Front (NPF) had won four — all of them in the hills. The National People's Party (NPP) had won two, both in the hills, while an Independent emerged victorious in the Jiribam (valley) seat.

The Congress is confident of its prospects in the second phase. However, the political situation in the state has changed drastically over the past five years that saw half of the Congress' 28 MLAs jumping ship, most of them embracing the lotus.

"Eleven of the 12 Congress MLAs, who had won from these seats in 2017, are still with us. We are confident we can win 16 of the 22 seats this time. People across constituencies are supporting us," Congress spokesman K Debabrata claimed.

He alleged the BJP had taken the help of some militant groups, which signed suspension of operation agreements with the government, to harass and intimidate Congress voters in the first phase elections. "The militants should be confined to their designated camps but they came out and openly supported the BJP," Debabrata alleged.

The Congress and the BJP are expected to win bulk of the 22 seats. The BJP's base has improved tremendously in the Imphal Valley as well as the hills since 201. Another factor likely to favour the BJP is that the Northeast voters usually vote for that party which is in power at the Centre.

The NPF, which was born in Nagaland, is considered a powerhouse in 10 Naga-majority seats in Manipur hills where it has fielded candidates. The NPP, which leads Meghalaya government, is expected to win some seats in the valley.

RELIGIOUS, CASTE PRIORITIES DOMINATE PSYCHE IN EAST

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Jaunpur /Mirzapur/Bhadohi/Sonbhadra

As one moves east towards Varanasi, through the political corridors comprising Jaunpur, Mirzapur, Bhadohi and Sonbhadra, the effects of newly inaugurated Kashi Vishawanth Dham and the upcoming Ayodhya Ram temple on the voters' psyche become palpable. Religio-political issues seem to be jotting the script of polarisation ahead of final phase voting in this region.

The electorate minces no words in giving its fare opinion about the work and worth of the sitting lawmakers. An interaction with voters, however, makes it clear that religious and caste priorities dominate the discourse.

Caste formula at stake

Once the centre stage of the politics of Sharqui Sultanate, Jaunpur is also known for the mellifluous Raag Jaunpuri introduced by Sultan Hissain Shah Sharqui. However, this time, Jaunpur would play a laboratory for the experiment of caste-based political alliances between smaller groups and main stream parties.

The district has nine Assembly segments — Badlapur, Shahganj, Jaunpur, Malhani, Mungra Badshahpur, Machhlishahr (SC), Mariyahu, Zafrabad and Kerakat (SC). BJP and its ally Apna Dal (S) hold five of nine seats while three are with SP and one with BSP. Who will Jaunpur vote for? Pat comes the reply, "BJP" as Padmini Gupta, a housewife stops suddenly while crossing Shahi Pul in the morning. On being asked the reason, the response is even crisper: "Nationalism." Shamsuddin sitting in front of Atal Masjid prefers cycle (SP symbol) "as it does not need petrol," he says with intended sarcasm on price rise. Shamsuddin gives words to his pain: "Jaunpur never witnessed Hindu-Muslim rift but it is a reality of today."

Vegetable vendor of Mandi Naseeb Khan, Ratan Sonkar feels that Girish Chandra Yadav, who has been repeated by the BJP, will not have to work hard for victory as all three rival parties have fielded Muslim candidates which will divide the Muslim votes.

TNIE @ GROUND ZERO

Triangular contest

Out of the three Assembly segments — Bhadohi, Gyanpur and Aurai (SC) — in the district, BJP had bagged two in 2017. Gyanpur was won by Vijay Mishra, a muscleman who is currently in jail, on NISHAD ticket. The district is small but famous for its intricately woven carpets. However, Bhadohi's carpet industry has taken a hit in the pandemic. Bhadohi and its neighbouring districts, including Mirzapur, Varanasi and certain pockets of Chandauli, together make up a hub that accounts for ₹7,000 crore of India's annual carpet export of ₹12,000 crore.

"The One district One Product (ODOP) scheme initiated by the Adityanath government has helped the carpet industry a great deal as the government provided us foreign markets through international expos," says Umesh Gupta, associated with carpet industry.

Anti-incumbency matters

Another hub of carpet industry, Mirzapur has five Assembly segments — Chhanbey (SC), Mirzapur, Majhawan, Chunar and Marihan. Shivmurat Kol of Haliya Bazar in Chhanbey is content with the BJP government's performance. "We are getting roti, kapda and makaan — all three. What else do we need," he says adding that if BJP government returns it will take the development further.

On the other, Rajesh Yadav in Mirzapur feels that if BJP suffers setback, it will be due to its sitting MLA Ratnakar Mishra who has been repeated by the party. The district, having Kurmis as a dominant backward caste, may give some reverses for the ruling BJP due to the anti-incumbency against sitting MLAs.

In Chunar, voters sound angry with sitting MLA Anurag Singh, son of BJP veteran OM Prakash Singh. "Anurag has not lived up to the expectations," says Moolan Singh Bind, adding that he will still vote for Anurag in the absence of a promising opposition candidate. Adalhat's Brijesh Patel and Shivakant Rajbhar claim that voters will not wait for MLA to wake up from his slumber. "We will take a new path this time" says Rajbhar.

How tribal belt thinks?

As soon as one enters the tribal belt, the 2019 incident of Umbha village rings in the memory. In 2019, 10 persons were killed in a clash between Gurjars and Gonds over 90 bighas of disputed land. While Gujjars belong to OBC segment, Gonds are classified as SC. Umbha has seen change with sops raining upon it. The villagers have got land rights. Moreover, the picture of the village has changed with a model school, PHC and other facilities.

Sonbhadra has four Assembly segments. Around 11 villages of Duddhi Assembly segment will vote one last time on March 7 as they will be swamped by waters of Kanhar river as the Kanhar Dam Project will become operational by the end of this year. Residents of 11 villages that will cease to be a part of Duddhi pray that their last vote from the constituency paves way for the return of the BJP government.

BJP, SP turn Varanasi into last battleground of UP

ANURAAG SINGH @ Varanasi

> UP continuously needs leadership which is honest and can toil hard for development. The history of these dynasts (Opposition) is written in black. Their history is of looting the state — Narendra Modi, PM

THE biggest of the spectacles of these Assembly elections in Uttar Pradesh was reserved for the last, and befittingly, for the ancient city of Varanasi.

PM Narendra Modi was in his karmabhoomi on Friday, reconnecting with the locals through a roadshow with a Banarasi flavour, to drum up support for BJP candidates. As he wound up his mega show, Samajwadi Party leader Akhilesh Yadav held his own roadshow in another part of the city, as if challenging Modi's charisma in his home ground.

After garlanding the statue of Sardar Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel at Maldahiya crossing, the PM embarked on his roadshow. BJP supporters showered flower petals and chanted Jai Sri Ram slogans as the PM's cavalcade inched its way through a sea of crowd. Standing in an open-roof vehicle, Modi waved to residents eagerly on rooftops and balconies to have a glimpse of the PM.

It took almost three hours for the PM's motorcade to reach the Kashi Vishwwanath Dham Corridor, where he offered prayers Vishwanath Temple after playing the king size dumroo amid reverberating chants of Har Har Mahadev.

Traversing through various areas of Varanasi north, south and cantt assembly segments, the PM ended his 8-km roadshow by garlanding the statue of Madan Mohan Malviya at Lanka Chowk. He also stopped in between to relish kulhad chai with BJP rank and file at the famous Pappu Tea Shop, which for long has been the adda for political gossip.

At Lahurabir, some devotees welcomed the PM by chanting hymns. And at Kabirchaura, people danced as devotional music played. Modi had begun his first roadshow in Varanasi from the same spot after filing his nomination papers for the 2014 Lok Sabha election.

The PM will wind up his Varanasi trip on Saturday — the last day for campaigning.

Akhilesh, meanwhile, travelled 1.5 km between Rathyatra Crossing and Girjaghar Crossing, covering parts of Varanasi Cantt and South seats. Standing atop his 'Samajwadi Rath', Yadav began his roadshow from the Rath Yatra roundabout. The roadshow covered an area stretching about 2 km.

The roadshow saw enormous participation of people, especially from the minority communities who hold the sway in Varanasi South and Varanasi Cantt seats as well as adjoining Jaunpur, Ghazipur, Azamgarh, Bhadohi and Mau districts, all of which go to polls in the final phase on March 7.

Fearing poaching, Congress, AAP may shift newly elected MLAs out of Punjab

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

FEARING poaching f MLAs by rivals once the Assembly results are declared on March 10, the Congress and AAP are likely to shift their newly elected legislators out of Punjab. While the grand old party may shift its Punjab MLAs to Rajasthan, the Delhi's ruling party is expected to shift its MLAs to the national capital.

While all parties are clamming that they will form the next government in the state, there are fears that the verdict will create a hung House.

Sources said there are apprehensions that if nobody gets a clear majority, the SAD and its former partner BJP would try to form an alliance government and if they fall short of the required numbers, they would poach the legislators of Congress and AAP.

"There has been a decision to keep the newly elected Congress MLAs of Punjab in Jaipur as there is a Congress government in Rajasthan. As per internal surveys, the party might get around 50 seats in Punjab and fall short of majority," said a party leader on condition of anonymity.

SAD may approach BJP to form alliance govt

The AAP has made a plan so that their newly elected MLAs are not poached by other political parties. It is likely the AAP legislators might be taken to Delhi.

Meanwhile, sources in the Shiromani Akali Dal said party president Sukhbir Singh Badal has been in Delhi for the last few days. As per an internal survey the SAD-BSP alliance might get around 35 seats. The SAD leaders are in touch with the BJP to form a post-poll alliance if they have the numbers to form government.

14 die as explosion rocks Bhagalpur house

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

A powerful explosion inside a house left as many as 14 people, including six women and two minors, dead and 10 others seriously wounded in Bihar's Bhagalpur district on the intervening night of Thursday and Friday.

The inhabitants of the house in which the blast occurred were said to be engaged in making firecrackers and that too in a densely populated locality, hardly 100 metres from the Kotwali police station at the district headquarters.

Rescue operation underway at the explosion site in Bhagalpur | PTI

Director General of Police (DGP) S K Singhal confirmed the death of 14 persons in the incident and told the media on Friday that the exact cause of the explosion would be ascertained only after the receipt of the forensic report, which is still awaited.

The incident took place at around 11.35 pm when most of the residents in the neighborhood were sleeping. Police believed that the inhabitants of two houses —Leelawati Devi and Mahendra Mandal — were busy in making firecrackers that could have led to the explosion.

A similar incident had occurred in 2008 in which three persons had died. Though a case was registered, the lucrative business continued unabated after some time, a resident said.

RUSSIA'S ISOLATION GROWS AT UN RIGHTS BODY

GENEVA

RUSSIA appeared more isolated than ever following a historic vote at the UN Human Rights Council on Friday, calling for an investigation into alleged violations committed in Moscow's Ukraine war.

"The message to (Russian President Vladimir) Putin has been clear: You're isolated on a global level and the whole world is against you," Ukrainian ambassador Yevheniia Filipenko told reporters after the overwhelming vote. Thirty-two of the council's 47 members voted to establish the highest-level probe possible, in a bid to hold perpetrators responsible.

Only Russia itself and Eritrea voted against, while 13 countries abstained, including Moscow's traditional backers China, Venezuela and Cuba. The heavy blow to Russia came after the UN General Assembly in New York on Wednesday issued its own powerful rebuke, with a 141-5 vote to deplore Moscow's invasion and demand an immediate withdrawal. The council in Geneva also condemned "in the strongest possible terms" the violations "resulting from the Russian Federation's aggression against Ukraine".

The text, presented by Kyiv, called for the "swift and verifiable withdrawal of Russian Federation troops and Russian-backed armed groups from the entire territory of Ukraine". Most importantly, Friday's vote opens the way to create an independent international commission of inquiry "to investigate all alleged violations and abuses... in the context of the Russian Federation's aggression against Ukraine."

It calls for the appointment of three investigators to "establish the facts, circumstances, and root causes of any such violations and abuses," and to gather evidence "with a view to ensuring that those responsible are held accountable".

The International Criminal Court in The Hague has already begun investigating possible war crimes in Ukraine.

"I thank all those who voted for the right cause," Filipenko said, calling for the investigation to start "as soon as possible, given the urgency of the situation".

"This will be an important body to complement the work of the International Criminal Court," she said. In another development aiming to boost accountability, the Ukrainian government and former British PM Gordon Brown on Friday called for the creation of a special criminal tribunal to prosecute Russian President Vladimir Putin.

UNHRC resolution: India abstains

Geneva/United Nations: India on Friday abstained in the UN Human Rights Council on a vote to urgently establish an independent international commission of inquiry to investigate alleged human rights violations and related crimes following Russia's military operation in Ukraine.

US senator calls for Putin's assassination

WASHINGTON: Senior US senator Lindsey Graham called in a televised interview on Thursday evening for "somebody in Russia" to assassinate President Vladimir Putin after Moscow's invasion of Ukraine. "How does this end? Somebody in Russia has to step up to the plate... and take this guy out," said the senator. He repeated the call later in a series of tweets, saying "the only people who can fix this are the Russian people." "Is there a Brutus in Russia?" asked the senator. AFP

Russians urged to 'unite' around Putin

MOSCOW: The Kremlin on Friday called on Russians to rally around President Vladimir Putin, more than one week after Moscow launched an invasion of Ukraine. "Now is not the time to be divided," the Kremlin's spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters, responding to a question on pleas from public figures to end war. "Now is the time to unite around our president," he said. Since Russia sent troops into Ukraine after a plea from separatist leaders, Russian public figures have been divided on the operation. AFP

West eyes more sanctions on Russia

BRUSSELS: Western allies on Friday condemned Russia over the shelling of a nuclear plant in Ukraine. Foreign ministers meeting in Brussels at NATO and the European Union said they were weighing more sanctions to keep up the pressure after hitting Moscow with a wave of economic punishment over its invasion. "Overnight we have also seen reports about the attack against the nuclear power plant. This just demonstrates the importance of ending the war," NATO chief Jens Stoltenberg said. AFP

NATO rules out policing no-fly zone over Ukraine

BRUSSELS

NATO countries refused on Friday to police a no-fly zone over Ukraine, warning that such a move could provoke widespread war in Europe with nuclear power Russia, the organisation's top civilian official said.

Speaking after chairing a meeting with US Secretary of State Antony Blinken and his counterparts, NATO Secretary-General Jens Stoltenberg acknowledged the suffering of the Ukrainian people, as Russia ramps up its use of heavy firepower, shelling cities and other sites, forcing more than a million people out of the country. "What is taking place now in Ukraine is horrific. It's painful and we see human suffering, we see destruction at a scale we haven't seen in Europe since the Second World War," he said.

But, he added: "We are not going to move into Ukraine, neither on the ground, nor in the Ukrainian airspace." Under a collective security guarantee binding NATO's 30 member countries, all allies must come to the defense of an ally if it finds itself under attack. Any shooting down of a NATO warplane by Russia could trigger that clause.

"The only way to implement a no-fly zone is to send NATO fighter planes into Ukrainian airspace, and then impose that no-fly zone by shooting down Russian planes," Stoltenberg said.

Tearful goodbyes at Kyiv train station

KYIV

A WOMAN crouches down in the doorway of a blue and yellow train at a station in Kyiv, Ukraine's embattled capital city. Her husband stands on the platform below and cranes his neck up for a kiss that both hope will not be their last.

As the train door closes, the woman holds up their 2-year-old son and he smiles and presses his tiny hand against the smudged window to wave goodbye to his father, who is staying behind to fight the Russian invaders. Nearby, a grandmother reaches out to bid farewell to her daughter and grandson, who are on the train headed toward the border with Poland. She backs toward a wall of the train station and is soon overcome with emotion. She places her hands over her mouth, squeezes her eyes shut tight and lets the tears fall. These are the goodbyes that have been repeated across Ukraine in the week since Russia invaded and began pounding the country's cities with bombs. The UN says the fighting has sent more than 1 million people fleeing the country, a number that is already the swiftest exodus of refugees this century and one that could soon skyrocket even further.

Those leaving are overwhelmingly women and children. Ukrainian men have been ordered to stay and fight in the war.

At the train station in Kyiv crowds of people carrying luggage stand in the cold as they wait for their chance to board a train. Mothers hold children bundled in winter jackets and stocking caps, some clutching onto stuffed animals.

Men help the elderly get to the train, even using a luggage cart to carry one woman with crutches. Up and down the platform there are tearful embraces. Once on the train, many of those leaving press their faces against the windows for a last glimpse at those staying behind. One woman reaches her hand out the door for a fleeting brush of a loved one's cheek. AP

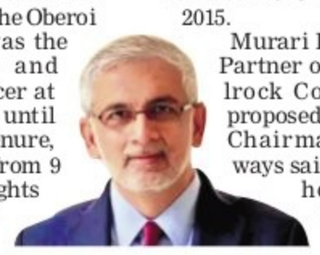
Jet Airways appoints Sanjiv Kapoor as CEO

Prior to joining the Oberoi Group, Kapoor was the Chief Strategy & Commercial Officer at Vistara from 2016-2019

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

JET Airways revival plans get a fresh life as the Jalan-Kalrock Consortium, the new owners of the airline, has appointed aviation veteran Sanjiv Kapoor as its Chief Executive Officer. Sanjiv, who is currently President of Oberoi Hotels & Resorts, will be joining Jet from April 4, 2022.

Kapoor's appointment in the grounded airline comes only days after the Consortium had announced bringing in Vipula Gunatileka, the former CEO of Sri Lankan Airlines, as the airline's chief financial officer.



Prior to joining the Oberoi Group, Kapoor was the Chief Strategy and Commercial Officer at Vistara from 2016 until 2019. During his tenure, the airline grew from 9 aircraft and 40 flights a day to 38 aircraft and over 200 flights a day. Prior to Vistara, Sanjiv led SpiceJet through its turnaround in 2014-2015 as its COO and de facto CEO from November 2013 until October 2015.

Murari Lal Jalan, Lead Partner of the Jalan-Kalrock Consortium and proposed Non-Executive Chairman of Jet Airways said, "I am certain he (Kapoor) will be able to lead Jet Airways and make it become the most preferred full-service carrier of India. Sanjiv is a seasoned aviation professional who has the right blend and demeanor to stitch a team together."

The two appointments follow the quiet exit of Jet Airways' Accountable Manager, Captain Sudhir Gaur.

Few industry analysts feel that it will be a herculean task for the new owners to start the second innings of Jet Airways which had first collapsed in 2019 due to lack of funds. From slot allotment to legal hurdles, Jet has faced multiple setbacks since the consortium's plan to revive Jet was approved by the NCLT in June 2021. It was grounded in April 2019 due to lack of funds.

Sky-rocketing jet fuel prices, growing competition with the privatization of Air India along with the entry of Akasa Air and uncertainty related to covid-19 pandemic pose challenges for Jet's smooth take-off.

HERO MOTOCORP LAUNCHES BRAND 'VIDA' FOR ITS EV

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AMIDST the on-going tussle with electric vehicle maker Hero Electric over the use of the brand name 'Hero', India's largest two-wheeler manufacturer Hero Motocorp on Friday launched a new brand for its electric vehicle segment.

Vida, powered by Hero, is a new identity for Hero Motocorp's emerging mobility solutions, including upcoming Electric Vehicles (EV).

The new brand launch comes as the manufacturer is getting ready to unveil its first EV on July 1, 2022. The production of the new Vida model will take place at Hero MotoCorp's manufacturing facility in Chittoor. Dispatches to customers will begin later in 2022.

Vijay Munjal and his son Naveen Munjal of Hero Electric had moved the Delhi High Court last year against his cousin Pawan Munjal of Hero MotoCorp, seeking an injunction on Hero MotoCorp using the brand name for its upcoming electric two-wheeler products. Recently, the Delhi High Court asked the family members to settle the dispute through arbitration.

Commenting on the new brand launch, Pawan Munjal, chairman and CEO of Hero MotoCorp said, "With the creation of 'Vida' we will offer everyone the opportunity to thrive, grow and live better while continuing to move the way they want. I will lead this initiative from the front."

While Hero MotoCorp will be a late entrant in the fast growing electric two-wheeler market as rival companies Bajaj Auto and TVS have already started selling EVs, it is likely to benefit from the ecosystem it has established in the last few years. Hero MotoCorp owns around 38% stake in Bengaluru-based Ather Energy (one of the fastest growing new age EV makers).

NSE invites applications for MD & CEO role

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE NSE has begun the hunt for an MD & CEO with the five-year term of incumbent Vikram Limaye ending in July. Limaye, who's credited with making the bourse the largest derivatives market place by contracts traded, is eligible for a re-appointment, but Sebi rules mandate that the exchange must invite applications from candidates with whom the incumbent has to compete.

The prospective candidate will take the reins at the country's foremost stock exchange at a time multiple regulatory agencies are probing the bourse and its former management led by Chitra Ramkrishna, for alleged corporate governance lapses. The candidate must be less than 60 years as on June 30 and apply for the post not later than March 25 .

Limaye has worked hard to steer the exchange and retain it as the country's largest in the cash market and derivatives segment. The bourse posted an average daily turnover of ₹67,069 crore in the fiscal year to date, up from ₹61,839 crore in FY21. In equity derivatives in the fiscal year so far it has posted a turnover of ₹15,281 lakh crore, up from ₹6,313 lakh crore in the previous fiscal.

The candidate must have 25 plus years of experience including domain knowledge in various aspects of the capital markets, with a minimum of five years at leadership level, preferably as CEO, in the financial services sector, reads a public notice put out by the bourse. A candidate having led an organisation through an initial public offering process, will enjoy added advantage, with NSE waiting in the wings to go public.

Recoveries from insolvency code shrink to 33%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

NARENDRA Modi government's much touted reform - the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) -- is floundering as recoveries under IBC continue to shrink further.

Banks have taken on an average 67% hair cut in all insolvency cases which have seen resolution so far. In 458 cases resolved through IBC, creditors have recovered only ₹2.5 lakh crore, or just 33% of the total admitted claims of ₹7.5 lakh crore. The IBC, which is considered one of the most significant reforms by the Narendra Modi government for its potential to resolve large NPA cases in quick time but also making good recoveries from defaulting borrowers, has been marred by delays as well as low recovery.

Till March 2020, the average recoveries were to tune of 40-45%, but over the past one year, things have only gotten worse. The figure released by the insolvency regulator till December 2021, shows that of the 37 cases resolved in the October -December 2021 quarter, creditors could recover only 13% of the admitted claims of ₹33,000 crore. Experts say the government needs to act swiftly and bring about paradigm shift if it wants to save IBC from becoming another piece of ineffective legislature.

Neeti Sikha, associate dean, Indian School of Public Policy, and who has closely worked with the government in bringing various changes in the IBC, says that the delay is due to several reasons -- due to lack of court capacity, absence of a well developed market for the sale of stressed assets, and due to size of the debt in India. The average time taken for resolution of cases has also been increasing every year. The average time taken to resolve a case was 411 (against the 330 days time line) till March 2020. Between April and December 2021, average time taken to resolve 98 cases was 709 days.

So far, 1,514 cases have gone into liquidation, which means these many companies could not find a bidder under IBC.

SRI LANKA

CENTRAL BANK HIKES RATES TO TAME INFLATION

Sri Lanka's central bank raised interest rates on Friday to staunch growing inflationary pressures and urged the government to consider measures including curbing non-essential imports and raising fuel prices to reduce pressure on the economy. The Central Bank of Sri Lanka (CBSL) raised the standing deposit facility rate and the standing lending facility rate by 100 basis points (bps) each to 6.50% and 7.50%, respectively. More rate hikes in coming months now seem inevitable, Capital Economics said, pencilling in another 200 bps of tightening this year. Retail inflation in February reached 15.1% while food inflation hit 25.7% - the highest in a decade. CBSL targets to hold inflation in a 4-6% range over the medium term. The CBSL said economic activity has been affected by global developments and surging commodity prices. Sri Lanka has been unable to pay for fuel to fire its power plants, and has implemented rolling power cuts.

JAPAN

JOBLESS RATE RISES AS COVID HITS SERVICE SECTOR

Japan's jobless rate rose to 2.8% as the surge in coronavirus infections and mobility curbs hit service sector activity, although a gauge of job availability grew to a 21-month-high in January, government data showed on Friday. The mixed data came as firms in the world's third-largest economy conclude annual labour talks, while downside pressure from record coronavirus deaths and the Ukraine crisis overshadow the recovery outlook. The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate compared with 2.7% in December, which was also the median forecast in a Reuters poll of economists. The number of workers stood at 66.9 million in January on a seasonally-adjusted basis, posting the first decline in three months as resignations due to unfavourable business conditions grew by 70,000. The retail, education and transport sectors were hit hard by the Omicron variant outbreak.

SOUTH KOREA

FEB INFLATION ACCELERATES TO NEAR-DECADE HIGH

South Korea's consumer inflation hovered near a decade high in February and stood above the central bank's 2% target for an 11th month, adding pressure on policymakers to raise interest rates amid surging oil prices due to the Russia-Ukraine crisis. The consumer price index (CPI) for February rose 3.7% from a year earlier, government data showed on Friday, exceeding a 3.5% gain tipped in a Reuters survey and a notch below the decade high of 3.8% marked in November. It rose 3.6% in January. The breakdown of data showed the cost of petroleum surged 19.4%, while that of housing rentals and outdoor dining increased 2.1% and 6.2%, respectively, year on year. Core inflation jumped 2.9% from a year earlier, the fastest since June 2009, in a sign that surging prices of fuel and other raw materials have fed through to higher costs for goods and services.

War to enhance chips shortage problem globally: Moody's Analytics

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE ongoing geopolitical tension between Russia and Ukraine is going to enhance the semiconductor chips shortage problem globally, claims a report by Moody's Analytics.

As per the report, Russia supplies around 40% of the world's supply of palladium and Ukraine produces 70% of the global supply of neon, and both are very vital items for preparing semiconductor chips.

"We can expect the global chip shortage to worsen should the military conflict persist," said the report. The shortage is going to impact automakers, electronic device manufacturers, phone makers, and many other sectors that are increasingly reliant on chips, the report warns.

The report also highlighted that during the 2014-2015 war in Ukraine, the price of neon prices went up several times. With this, one could estimate how the scarcity of these items can impact the semiconductor supply. "Semiconductor-exposure companies make up 70% of total neon demand, as it is an integral part of the lithographic process for making chips," reads the report.

It also mentioned that the most salient adverse impact will be felt in countries primarily in Europe that are recipients of Russian oil and natural gas. Russia accounts for 12% of the world's oil supply and 17% of its natural gas. It supplies 5.2% of coal, 4.3% of copper, 6.1% each of aluminium and nickel, 15% of zinc, 9.5% of gold, 5.4% of silver, 14% of platinum, 44% of palladium and 11% of wheat.

The global supply of chips has been impacted due to Covid pandemic. If the tension doesn't stop in the next few days, Moody's Analytics expects the chip shortage to worsen. "This means significant risks are ahead for many automakers, electronic device manufacturers, phone makers, and many other sectors that are increasingly reliant on chips for their products to work."

NEXT BIG THING

Startup Reseau eyes African start-up space

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

STARTUP Reseau, an accelerator that helps start-ups scale globally, says Africa is the next big thing when it comes to burgeoning start-up hubs.

It has planned a series of accelerator programmes for the African market. "With over $4.5 billion in venture capital investments in 2021, the African start-up ecosystem is on the upswing. We are now looking to make pre-seed investments in early-stage start-ups going through our accelerator," Ajay Ramasubramaniam, Founder and CEO, Startup Reseau said.

With a pan-African population of over 1.3 billion, and a rising middle-income group and increasing mobile internet penetration, many start-ups and accelerators see huge opportunities in the African start-up ecosystem.

A recent report says that Venture Capital (VC) investment in Africa is expected to climb between $3.8 billion and $4.7 billion in 2022.

Talking about early-stage start-ups in India, Ajay Ramasubramaniam said the early-stage investment scene in India has undergone a massive shift over the years. "While we have micro-VC funds and founder-first funds, traditional VCs have set up structured acceleration programmes that allow them to identify start-ups much earlier," he said. He added that this is good from a start-up perspective, as many of these VCs have the capability to do follow-on funding.

Start-up deal analysis

According to start-up deal analysis by Nasscom, 60% of deal activity during the fourth quarter of CY21, was driven by early-stage start-ups, and 110 start-ups received funding in the early stage, accounting for 8% of total funding raised. Mumbai-based Startup Reseau said about 50 start-ups in its extended accelerator portfolio come from Tier-2 cities.

'2-wheeler sales continue to see dip'

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

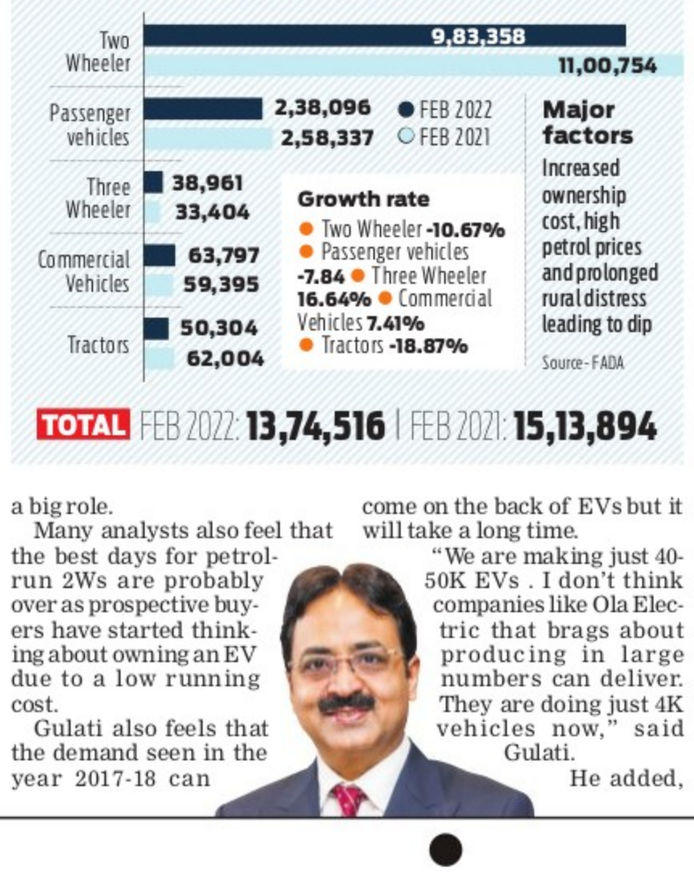
IT is highly unlikely that 2-wheelers sales will reach to its previous high or even to pre-covid level any time soon, FADA (Federation of Automobile Dealers Associations) president Vinkesh Gulati told TNIE.

Facing increased ownership cost, high petrol prices and prolonged rural distress, 2-wheelers sales in recent months has come down to around 10 lakh level as against 13-14 lakh units sold per month in the pre-covid era.

"We were expecting a year-on-year decline of 5-6% in February 2022 but it fell over 10%. There is no hope left for the industry unless some external forces such as GST rate cut or economic boom happens," said Gulati.

He added that post state election results, fuel prices will go up by at least ₹10-15 a litre as crude has breached the $110 mark. This will be a big obstacle for 2W sales.

He added for the industry to reach pre-covid level, electric vehicles (EVs) will have to play a big role.



Many analysts also feel that the best days for petrol-run 2Ws are probably over as prospective buyers have started thinking about owning an EV due to a low running cost.

Gulati also feels that the demand seen in the year 2017-18 can come on the back of EVs but it will take a long time.

"We are making just 40-50K EVs . I don't think companies like Ola Electric that brags about producing in large numbers can deliver. They are doing just 4K vehicles now," said Gulati.

He added, "Once e-2W production capacity reaches 5 lakh units per month and the products are available all over India, 2W sales can reach to pre-covid level. For this to happen, all the 4 big companies will have to play a major role and not just tease products or produce in limited quantities."

Fada on Friday also released February 2022 numbers in which total retail auto sales fell 9% to 13.74 lakhs. 2W sales fell 11% to 9.83 lakh units while passenger vehicle (PV) sales fell 8% to 2.38 lakh units.

Fada said that the Russia-Ukraine conflict will have ripple effects on the global automobile supply chain as Russia is a large producer of Palladium, which is an essential metal for semi-conductors.

Ukraine on the other hand is one of the biggest producers and exporters of Neon Gas, which is also used in the manufacturing of semiconductors.

"Due to the ongoing war, we once again fear the shortage in semi-conductors, which will create additional supply side issues for passenger vehicles," said FADA.

FII selling continues to weigh on markets

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

FIIs continued with their selling spree, offloading Indian shares worth a provisional ₹7,631 crore Friday amid global markets selling off as a fallout from the Ukraine conflict. Investor wealth worth ₹4.42 lakh crore was eroded in Friday's fall.

The FII selling has intensified over the past few days with no sight of a solution to end the conflict that has led to 1 million Ukrainians fleeing to bordering countries, crushing sanctions on Russia which has pushed crude oil to seven year highs.

The Nifty closed down 1.5% at 16,245.35 while the Sensex shed 1.4% to close at 54,333.81. The losses on Nifty were led by Titan, Asian Paints, Maruti Suzuki, Tata Motors and Hero MotoCorp, which fell between 4 % and 5%. Fear gauge India Vix, which reflects traders' anticipation of price swings, trades at an elevated 27.96, with a reading above 20 indicating heightened risk. Rajesh Palviya, technical head, Axis Securities, expects the markets to continue remaining under pressure amid "scorching " commodity prices.

> Markets to remain under pressure. A weaker rupee reduces FIIs' dollar returns which drives more outflows, in turn putting more pressure on the rupee. It's a vicious cycle.
>
> R Palviya, technical head, Axis Securities

Hormuz Maloo, director, AFco Investments, said the market could break convincingly below the 16000 mark amid worsening geopolitical tensions.

"A weaker rupee reduces FIIs' dollar returns which drives more outflows, in turn putting more pressure on the rupee," said Palviya, adding, "It's a vicious cycle."

The rising inflationary fears and safe haven appeal pushed gold up 1% to ₹52,326 per 10 gm in intraday trades. Prices above ₹50,000 tend to slow physical market buying, said Surendra Mehta, national secretary of IBJA, precious metals trade body.

Aussie cricket great Rod Marsh dead at 74

Australian cricket great Rod Marsh, regarded as one of the finest wicketkeepers, has died after suffering a heart attack at a charity event, his former teammates said. The 74-year-old, who played 96 Tests and was later a national selector, had been in an induced coma and died at a hospital in Adelaide.

Sudden demise of Oz great, who redefined leg-spin, leaves a void in the world of sport. But memories he has etched will live forever

BOWLED, SHANE

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

For a nineties kid who consumed way too much cricket, Shane Warne was the one true deity. Forget Sachin Tendulkar. Or Brian Lara. Or Wasim Akram. Or Curtly Ambrose. They can all take a back seat and genuflect in the general direction of the sport's greatest entertainer who passed away from a suspected heart-attack in Thailand on Friday. The leggie didn't just play the sport, he made it an immersive experience in high definition at a time when said technology didn't exist. He made every ball an event in and of itself.

Watching him with the ball in hand as he sauntered past the umpire and began his delivery stride... it was world cinema played out on a cricket field with thousands of fans. Most times you knew the outcome. He knew the outcome. The batter knew the outcome. The fielders knew too. Yet, the choreography of it all made for heady viewing. Watching an artist showcase his/her artistry in front of an expectant world is a peek into the innermost sanctum sanctorum of elite sport and nobody did it better than Warne.

He made leg-spin look like a trip to the Cirque du Soleil. He made kids copy that legendary action. Slow and smooth, it had the grace of a ballerina. In an era where most fans, young and old, wanted to face those extra two balls in backyard cricket, the ones bowling would pretend to be the Australian great. To complete the act, some would even apply sun block cream and pretend to chew gum to make their devotion to their master total.

What was so compelling about Warne was the theatre around him. You may have fallen in love with the game because of another cricketer but Warne made you lose yourself. Yes, he was prone to the odd scandal—even when he was an active international, he was never far off from making headlines for the wrong reasons — but you knew you were hooked to this mad genius who made the ball dance in ways that challenged rules of geometry.

The Australian cricket writer Gideon Haigh, who wrote the seminal book about Warne ('On Warne'), once described him like this. "(it is) uncommonly easy to like him and a little harder to explain why". And it's not like he went out of his way to maintain the image of a do-gooder so Haigh captured the essence of Warne perfectly.

Yet, the relationship the fans had with him wasn't complex. It was pure, unadulterated love. Even English fans loved him.

He may have departed but his legacy will live on. It will live on via YouTube clips and highlight reels. It will live on through the stories fans and cricketers will exchange. It will live on through his untouchable records. Mainly, it will live on because he redefined the art of leg-spin. So the next time you see a 'right-arm leg spinner' coming onto bowl, look up to the heavens and utter a word or two of thanks.

To paraphrase Ian Healy from behind the stumps, 'bowled Shane'.

Pant puts India in command on Day 1

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

LASITH Embuldeniya has a 75-overs-old ball. There is some turn but nothing that threatens batters. Sri Lanka, who strangely went into the game with three seamers, are potentially one down, pacer Lahiru Kumara is already in the change room after pulling up short earlier in the third session.

India are on a solid looking 277/5 but with only five overs to go for the new ball, Rishabh Pant senses a small window of opportunity. The field is well spread out but Pant likes facing all spinners because he takes the boundary riders out of the equation.

So he comes down the track and lofts Embuldeniya, one of the better bowlers on display, over mid-wicket. The next ball is a touch shorter but Pant reserves the same treatment, lifting him over long-on. The third ball, Embuldeniya drops it even shorter. This time, Pant uses the full width of the crease to dispatch it through covers.

What makes Embuldeniya a steady bowler is his unwavering line and length. He will keep landing in same spot and that was how he removed both Mayank Agarwal and Virat Kohli, who was playing his 100th Test. The duo looked good for centuries but was dismissed against the run of play thanks to the primary visiting spinner's craft in targetting the stumps.

Pant has kind of removed that option. He has messed with his length. Off the last ball, it's short and wide. It comes with a 'please hit me' sticker attached to it and Pant obliges, hitting it through point. 22 runs, six balls and the switch has been flicked.

WORLD CUP

Hayley provides perfect start

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE last match of an ICC Women's main event was when Australia attained glory in front of 86,174 fans in the 2020 T20 World Cup final at home. Since then, pandemic had hit the women's game hard and they couldn't build on it.

Which is why, there was a lot of anticipation before the opening game of the World Cup between New Zealand and West Indies. It was essential that they had a good start. Hayley Matthews hit a century to take West Indies to 259/9. Sophie Devine countered with a ton as hosts came closer to victory, needing six runs in last over. Dottin, who hadn't bowled in months, delivered a three-run win in a thrilling finish.

Between Australia men playing in Pakistan, and Virat Kohli's 100th Test, there was too much cricket going on for the fans to look at Women's World Cup. But as both Tests broke for lunch, for last few overs, social media was buzzing about the World Cup. And the way Dottin took the team across the line meant that everyone's attention had turned to the World Cup.

RANJI TROPHY

Karnataka on top after Manish slams solid ton

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IF Day 1 belonged to Devdutt Padikkal, it was Karnataka skipper Manish Pandey's turn to shine against Puducherry in their Ranji Trophy Elite Group C encounter at the SSN ground in Chennai on Friday. On a rain-marred day, the right-hander scored an unbeaten 161-ball 107 before declaring at 453/8 in the final session.

The declaration was quite evident as Pandey would have wanted his pacers to have a crack at the Puducherry batters, and that ploy worked in their favour.

Vidhyadhar Patil and Prasidh Krishna took a wicket each as their opponents were 52/2 at stumps. With it, for a second day in succession, it was Karnataka, who dominated play with Puducherry trailing by 402 runs to put the former in a great position.

The morning did not start off on a bright note for Karnataka with Padikkal only adding 17 runs to his overnight score to be dismissed for 178 runs.

SELECT SCORES

Group A: Madhya Pradesh 474/5 in 180 ovs (Dubey 224 n.o, Patidar 142) vs Kerala; Group B: Hyderabad 197 & 169/6 in 59 ovs (Sahani 54) vs Baroda 163 in 47 ovs; Group C: Karnataka 453/8 d in 132.2 ovs (Padikkal 178, Pandey 107 n.o) vs Pondicherry 52/2 in 18 ovs; Group D: Odisha 284 in 107.1 ovs vs Mumbai 259/3 in 70 ovs (Sarfaraz 107 n.o); Group E: Uttarakhand 194 & 36/2 12 ovs vs Andhra 226 in 85 ovs (Rasheed 56); Group G: Maharashtra 462 147.1 ovs (Bawane 140) vs Uttar Pradesh 62/1 in 32 ovs; Group H: Tamil Nadu 285 & 15/2 10 ovs vs Jharkhand 226 in 74.3 ovs (Tiwary 58; Siddharth 4/37); Chhattisgarh 482/9 d in 145 ovs (Khare 156 n.o) vs Delhi 108/3 in 30 ovs.

With Pandey in the middle, runs were never going to be a problem, but the captain did not find a partner, who could bat with him for longer period.

The likes of BR Sharath, Shreyas Gopal and Krishnappa Gowtham did not give him enough support. And there were concerns if Pandey would even reach the three figure mark, but then Patil (25 runs) and Prasidh (12) stood tall to share 62 balls in the middle to give Pandey the time to complete his ton.

Nieva set to look after men & women boxers

Chennai: At long last, it seems like Santiago Nieva is back. Indian boxers have been managing their training sessions without a foreign coach for a while now. It looks like Nieva — who returned to the country a few days back — is ready to resume his duties, though it is learnt that he is yet to officially sign a contract. Having formerly focussed chiefly on the men's elite team, his role is likely to be a bit different this time. He'll be looking to ensure that the entire ecosystem of boxing in the country functions smoothly. For a start, he'll be guiding both the men's and women's teams along with Indian head coaches and support staff. Bindra backs IOC decision to ban Russian athletes

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

RUSSIA has been hit by various sanctions in different sectors for their invasion of Ukraine since last week. Even their athletes have not been spared with several international federations banning sportspersons/teams from participating in various competitions after the recommendation of the International Olympic Committee.

Likewise, Paralympics athletes from Belarus and Russia have been banned from the ongoing Winter Paralympics in Beijing as well. It is important to mention that Belarus is Russia's key ally in the current attack of their neighbours Ukraine. Many international bodies have closed their doors for competitions, which also comes as a setback for these athletes.

FIFA has banned Russia from the football World Cup 2022; World Athletics has also banned their athletes from all competitions. Other sports, which fall under the banned category include Formula One, Ice Hockey, Judo among others. The list could only get longer depending how things shape in the near future. 2008 Olympics gold medallist shooter from India Abhinav Bindra, who is a member of the IOC Athletes' Commission, supports the decision.

"Sports has tried to remain, historically, apolitical. But as the president of the IOC said that this is a very unique situation that we are in," he said during an event organised by Healthium Medtech, a global medtech company to inaugurate the 'Sport of Life' initiative with the Abhinav Bindra Foundation Trust (ABFT).

"I would like you to understand the principle of how this decision has been taken. I asked the president a few days ago, and he explained very well that as an IOC cannot ban an individual. You cannot ban that he/she is a Russian person, unless there is a direct involvement in the war. The principle of the decision is on an event based participation. On the personal level, I support that decision.....the Ukranians, it is none of their fault that they have been invaded suddenly. They do not have accessibility. They cannot participate."

However, calling the current crisis as a unique situation may not give a true picture to it. The IOC has taken this call when the body in the past has tried to stay aloof from such kind of situations.

ABFT and Healthium join hands

ABFT aims to support injured players in need with the cost of medical treatment, doctors, surgeries and rehabilitation facilities to recover from sport injuries and carry on with their career. Healthium will provide its arthroscopy implants required for the surgeries free of cost.

"We are delighted to join hands with Healthium... to the development of sports in India for being a part of this initiative. We look forward to impacting lives sportspeople within a year of this initiative," Bindra said.

Ramkumar, Yuki give India 2-0 lead in Davis Cup

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

THE hosts took a significant step towards advancing to the World Group I after winning both their opening rubbers against Denmark in the Group I playoffs on Friday. After Ramkumar Ramanathan eased past Christian Sigsgaard 6-3, 6-2, Yuki Bhambri fought off the more established Mikael Torpegaard 6-4, 6-4. It's the first time that India have won both singles matches on the opening day since they blanked Pakistan in 2019.

Yuki Bhambri in action

Even though both Sigsgaard (world No 824) and Torpegaard (305) are inferior players when compared to their Indian counterparts, Davis Cup ties have the tendency of veering off course.

One reason why it stayed true to template was India's decision to play on grass. Ramkumar used that fast and low surface to maximum effect as he wrapped his opener in 59 minutes itself. The key, as always for him, is predated on a good service. Even though his first serve percentages were down (60%), he lost only four points on his first serve in the entire match.

In sharp contrast, Sigsgaard served eight double faults, and managed to win only five points on his second serve (31%). That was never going to be enough against Ramkumar.

"I served pretty well, I was sharp," he said after the match. "The team and fan support also made the big difference. I just had to stay with the ball and make returns. A few free points also did the trick," the 27-year-old added.

Bengaluru look to end ISL campaign on a high

ENS @ Bengaluru

IT has not been a great season for Bengaluru FC. After a poor start, they did well in the middle phase, but that did not prove to be enough for them to seal a Playoff spot in the ISL. Hence, when the Blues face SC East Bengal at the Tilak Maidan on Saturday, Marco Pezzaiuoli and his men will be playing for pride and look to end the season on a high.

The situation for East Bengal will be no different as they will also be eager to collect three points in their last game of the season. With both the teams having a similar objective, one can expect them to give their best and it is not going to be any easy for the Blues considering their opponents have been involved in some close encounters in their last few outings.

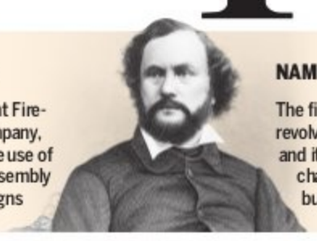
DAY'S DIARY

First revolver

On March 5, 1836, American inventor and industrialist Samuel Colt patented the first production-model revolver, the .34-caliber

POPULARISING GUNS

As founder of Colt's Patent Fire-Arms Manufacturing Company, he greatly popularised the use of interchangeable parts, assembly lines and simple gun designs



NAMING THE MODEL

The first commercial model revolver was called Colt Paterson and it featured revolving chamber that housed five bullets of .28 and .36 calibers

PRODUCTION

It was called 'revolver' because of the revolving cylinder inside the gun. In the first 25 years of manufacturing, Colt's company produced over 4,00,000 revolvers

Bengalureans are heading up north to Kashmir and Kedarkantha to catch the last of the winter snow; they are also keen to get a feel of travelling internationally after Covid has hit foreign trips

WINTER WONDERLAND

People now want an international experience because travel has been so restricted in the last two years. The vibe you get with the snow in these places is something you won't get anywhere else

Praachi Tantia, entrepreneur

MONIKA MONALISA

ZOHARA Jamal is just back from a trip to Gulmarg, Kashmir, which she can't stop daydreaming about. Jamal, a content creator, went on a week-long holiday with her family, to try out some adventure sports.

"It was stunning. It was snowing every day and there was a good amount of snow when we went. February or the beginning of March is a good time to go because later the snow starts melting," says Jamal, who was there last year as well.

Kashmir, which is described as 'Heaven on Earth' by many, becomes magical during this season in particular. And according to Jamal, what makes it even more beautiful is the warmth of the locals.

"They are so helpful and welcoming of tourists. The untouched natural beauty is something else," says Jamal, adding that it is quite unexplored owing to the political unrest.

Although skiing is exciting in itself, it could come with a slight dent to the pocket.

"Different instructors charge different amounts. On an average, an instructor charges around ₹2,000-₹3,000 per day; the skiing equipment can cost around ₹1,500-₹3,000 a day, depending on the kind that is being used," says Jamal, who suggests trying out an ATV ride, aka All-Terrain Vehicle ride.

Even Diya Kalra, who tried out ATV rides, highly recommends it. "If you are too scared to ride yourself, there are people who can help. They will take you to points where the views are breathtaking. That costs ₹1,500-₹2,000 for a 45 to 60-minute ride," says Kalra, adding that they preferred going pillion.

(From top) Zohara Jamal with daughter Zoya. Nagashree Gururaj with friends

TRAVEL ESSENTIALS

What you must absolutely carry are thermals and ski pants because they are waterproof. Ski jackets, helmets and goggles could be all hired on the spot. And if you are not comfortable wearing ski goggles, you can wear polarised glasses. Sunscreen is an absolute must because the high altitude sun rays are quite strong.

Not just Kashmir, Shimla and Manali are also getting quite a few inquiries, confirms Praachi Tantia, who runs a high-end travel service — Fly My Travel.

"People now want an international experience because travel has been so restricted in the last two years. Because of the Covid situation, many people are still skeptical of travelling abroad. The vibe you get with the snow in these places is something you won't get anywhere else," says Tantia, who started her travel agency three years ago.

Even luxury hotels are all sold out with people booking months in advance. "In Kashmir, The Kyber Resort and Spa are sold out. They are currently going at ₹40,000 per night and if you pre-book, they are available at ₹25,000-₹30,000," says Tantia.

If you still want to see snow and want to visit some place else, then you can opt for a snow trek, just as Nagashree Gururaj did. The city-based celebrity fashion designer took a break from Bengaluru and opted for a 20-km trek at Kedarkantha Base Camp. It was the first time she went on a trek as well as experienced snowfall.

"When we were there, we didn't realise the day or time, we just kept walking. Since there was no network, it was a way of unwinding for me," says Gururaj, who planned this trip with her friends through Trekkers of India. If the trip is planned well, it can turn out to be budget-friendly as well. "I had booked two months in advance and the whole trip cost me ₹25,000, including the flight cost," says Gururaj.

Taste of Bengaluru

Cousins Shashank Jayakumar and Sid Mewara of The Big Forkers recently explored the city as part of their food show. Here are their discoveries

ANILA KURIAN

It's often believed that when cousins get together, there's fun, food and laughter. Exactly the scene with Shashank 'Shanky' Jayakumar and Sid Mewara, who hop around different parts of a city to explore culinary secrets.

Now on their third season of the show, The Big Forkers on Zee Zest, the duo is out exploring Bengaluru. "Bengaluru is a melting pot of cultures where you'll find everything you want and more. After our first two seasons in Mumbai and Goa, respectively, we came down to Bengaluru after the first lockdown," says Jayakumar, a technology entrepreneur and consultant to The World Bank.

The duo started the show in 2019 after a suggestion by their friend, Jorindian Vineeth Kumar, during a trip to Spain.

"Shanky was already travelling the length and breadth of Spain and I was completing some business work. He asked me if I'd like to tag along for a tour that famed chef Anthony Bourdain took. We started discussing different cultures, food stories and other aspects related to food, and it was Vineeth who suggested that a chat show on food might just make for a good show," explains Mewara, an investment banker and former chef.

First up, they started a YouTube channel. "Shanky grew up in Mumbai so he took me around. I was stuck in Goa during the lockdown and that became our second season. We were both exploring the place without much personal background," adds Mewara, who adds that Bengaluru was their next destination after many fans asked them to visit the foodie city.

Through the show, they've covered legendary hotels like Koshy's, Hoskote biryani where queues start as early as 5 am, tasted benne dosae and checked out some pubs in the city. "I know I'm going to be hated for this, but I think the dosae is a bit too hyped here. I don't get the whole concept of crispy on the outside and soft on the inside. It also seems like it can't be either one," says Jayakumar, adding that he was surprised to find drinks along with lunch being quite popular here.

"Unlike Mumbai and Goa, which have different approaches to the way restaurateurs treat food, Bengaluru is a place that shows a lot of care in the kind of food they put on the table. The best part is it's decently priced," he adds.

Naati Cafe in Koramangala was one of their other favourite stops. "We don't know too much about Karnataka cuisine, and Naati Cafe was just perfect to give us an introduction to it. The menu is rotating and has an interesting mix," says Mewara.

Arirang Korean Restaurant in Kammanahalli was another hot favourite. "Though we've both travelled extensively, we learnt how to eat Korean food right here," adds Jayakumar.

Something old, something new...Mewara points out that the food culture has a mix of this. "There are places where you'll find the working professionals finishing their food in haste to head back to work. But in those same places, you'll also find old folks taking their own sweet time, discussing politics and solving life's problems. That sort of mix to see in a culture is very interesting," he explains.

With 15 episodes in total for the third season, the cousins are hoping to plan their next trips to Rajasthan, Kerala and North East India. "But I think we need to do Bengaluru again because when we came, many places were closed. We want to come back once again and explore more, learn about the city and just enjoy a good time with the lovely people here again," says Jayakumar.

The Dior's Autumn Winter 2022 collection might be the talk point in the fashion world, but Indian designers are still going gaga about their Spring-Summer 2022 collection which comprised the mesh and crochet effect

'Mesh'ing it up

MONIKA MONALISA

THE Paris Fashion Week 2022 was abuzz with chatter about luxury brand Dior. Not only did Dior grab attention when pregnant popstar Rihanna attended the show in a sheer black nude dress, showing off her baby bump, but also for their latest collection about futuristic clothing. On their official Instagram handle, they mentioned that Italian designer Maria Grazia Chiuri's 'The Next Era' collection is all about 'reimagining the relationship between body and garment'.

The present line was drastically different from their Spring-Summer 2022 collection, which had a wide usage of mesh and crochet. The collection spoke volumes about heritage in the fashion industry. However, closer home, these two components have been an integral part of the Indian attire. The collection has got a lot of attention from designers and fashion enthusiasts as well.

When fashion designer Husna Sait saw one of the videos posted on Dior's Instagram handle about how a mesh effect was created in the collection, she was quite thrilled about it as she had seen similar designs being used by her grandmother and mother. "The Dior collection has always been a headturner. But this particular mesh and net effect has been so common in our Indian attire. During weddings, veils, which are an important part of the whole ensemble, are usually made of mesh," says Sait, adding that she has created quite a few pieces with elaborate work like this. Sait also mentions that 'fashion is a fluid subject'. "Even if something is engraved in our heritage and culture, it's only when the west gives its approval are we ready to accept it. Even my karigars, who have been doing this work for generations, feel good to see something like this being done by a luxury brand," she says.

Why just the veil, if you look into your mother's or aunt's wardrobes, you will find a whole six-yard saree with the mesh effect. Celebrity stylist Karishma Devnani, who wore a mesh saree for a wedding can vouch for it. "Mesh has been an integral part of Indian attire. If you are looking for something subtle, yet something that accentuates your body, mesh work never goes wrong," says Devnani.

Dior's iconic piece was a body hugging see-through gown which was worn on a skin-coloured body suit. This might be a stunning idea for occasional wear, but fashion blogger Aswathi Balakrishnan says there are ways to incorporate this style for lighter events as well. "You can always opt for a crochet top or dress, but let's face it, wearing it while walking on the road would grab attention," says Balakrishnan, adding that you can team it up with a jacket. According to Balakrishnan, with crochet effects, you go on easy with accessories. Agrees designer Bharghavi, adding, "There is not much drama in the dress, you don't have to overdo it with accessories."

FIT BIT

VIPARITA PRAPADA DHANURASANA

(INVERTED TIP TOE BOW POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'viparita' means inverted, 'prapada' means tips of toes, 'dhanu' means bow and 'asana' means pose. This is a chest and hip opening pose that promotes blood circulation, activates the abdominal organs and stretches the deeper layers of the back muscles. It also stretches the spine. Since it is a more advanced asana, the practitioner should first master Urdhva Dhanurasana and one of the headstand asanas. Traditionally, this is thought to open the Ajna (third-eye) Chakra, which is the greater awareness of the world around you. Do this in the presence of an expert.

STEPS
- Lie on your back, feet together and hands beside your hips.
- Bring your heels closer to your sitting bones, apart and flat.
- Bend your elbows with palms on the floor. Press your feet and palms, exhale and gradually lift your hips off the floor.
- Bring the crown of your head to the floor. Then, lift your head off the floor, straighten your arms.
- Lengthen your spine and turn your head to face the ground.
- Place your forearms on the floor.
- Inhale and push your chest slightly forward. Lift your heels off the floor and slowly grip your right ankle with your right hand. Hold for 3-6 breaths and repeat with left hand.
- Heels down, place the palms near the head. Inhale, lift your body up. Hips down, rest in Savasana.

BENEFITS
- Relieves stress, anxiety, depression and fatigue.
- Slows ageing and stretches the spine, chest and lungs.
- Increases flexibility and strengthens the arms, wrists, legs, hips, abdomen and shoulders.
- Improves digestion and energizes the body.
- Stimulates the thyroid and pituitary glands.
- Calms the nervous system.
- Creates hormonal balance.
- Recommended for people with infertility, asthma, back pain and osteoporosis.

LIMITATIONS
- Those suffering from severe back, neck or head injuries should avoid this.
- Anyone with carpal tunnel syndrome, heart problems, high or low blood pressure or diarrhea, avoid this.
- Pregnant women should avoid this.

OH goody! We are back in business both locally and internationally. Humans thy name is vanity and stupidity. We have successfully obliterated the two horrendous years of our lives and started (re)living our lives with a manic zeal!

Take me, for instance. I can barely keep up with our nightly shenanigans. Sometimes it is two places in one night! The very same masked crusader (moi), is making up for lost time with a vengeance. The slightly older ones have a sense of pessimism. What exactly are we saving ourselves for? Why venture into an altered world with greying hair, arthritis and a sense of not belonging? No, thank you! I'd rather be relevant now than redundant later.

Whereas the young 'uns are restless. They are getting married, having babies and saying; 'a colourful expletive' you! They know that money alone cannot buy them a life or happiness. Many of them have been left orphaned and now our society is dangerously veering towards something akin to William Golding's terrifying book, Lord of the Flies! I remember having this conversation at Whiskey Ambassador Sandeep Arora's exclusive connoisseur whiskey tasting dinner at JW Marriott. A couple of us were discussing the changed scenario of having a world bereft of older folk and the narrative changing to a younger one. Some of us firmly believed that the old must give way to a younger world seen with a fresh perspective; but there was a lot to be said about an argument of losing a mature and an experienced voice too. I sincerely hope we can strike a balance.

So as most of the world took a neutral stance on the beginning of what could possibly be WW3, many decided to play 'frog in the well'. The impending forecast of a deadly fourth wave seemed like more forbidding news. Looking at it coldheartedly, what's the point of saving the world for another Cardi-V attack? Shaking off my gloomy reverie, I wound my way to a friend's son's restaurant Taki-Taki. A lovely 'tasting' table of delectable SE Asian fare, good friends and great cocktails always lifts my spirits.

Young adults always surprise and charm me alike! The Christ University hotel management students did that over the weekend. Their annual networking dinner could rival any world-class formal sit down. Stalwarts from the hospitality industry and major players in the corporate and social circuit graced the occasion which went off without a hiccup! Having been fortunate to dine in most fine restaurants the world over, I can say these children were on par with everything. From the invitations to supper and wine pairing was spot on. At the vote of thanks I could see their proud mentor Dr Nigli barely concealing his excitement.

The grand-dame, The Taj West End too, is re-inventing and changing its avatar. They recently launched their 'curated quality quisine' on a QMIN truck that has quintessentially Taj food on wheels to be parked at designated spots all over the city. I love it when they think out of the box and make their cuisine available for everyone. The loyalists showed up in droves to wish them luck, and GM Somnath Mukherjee showed everyone the famed 'Taj-hospitality'.

It's nice when some things don't change too much!

DIRECTOR RADHAKRISHNA ROPES IN INTERESTING CAST FOR HIS NEXT

Ravichandran

Kushboo

The film will bring together Ranadheera jodi - Ravichandran and Kushboo ; will also see Genelia Deshmukh making a comeback

CE FEATURES

KIREETI Reddy's debut vehicle, directed by Radhakrishna was officially launched on Friday in the presence of RRR movie director, SS Rajamouli. The producer Sai Korrapati, who is backing the film under his Vaaraahi Chalana Chitram banner, and Baahubali cinematographer Senthil Kumar and actor Genelia Deshmukh were also part of the event.

The yet-to-be-titled Kannada-Telugu bilingual, has an interesting star cast. Sreeleela has been cast opposite Kireeti Reddy. The Radhakrishna directorial will see the comeback of the Ranadheera jodi — Crazy Star Ravichandran and Kushboo. Interestingly, the director has also managed to rope in Genelia Deshmukh, who is making a comeback to the silver screen after a hiatus. Although unwilling to share details about their roles, Radhakrishna shares that Genelia has a very important character to play in this romantic family entertainer.

I AM EXCITED TO BE PART OF KIREETI REDDY'S DEBUT :SREELEELA

Sreeleela

Kireeti Reddy

CE FEATURES

SREELEELA is set to play the lead opposite Kireeti Reddy in his debut film. This was officially revealed at the launch event that was graced by filmmaker SS Rajamouli.

The KISS actor shared that she is excited to be part of a project that is helmed by Radhakrishna and has a top technical team. Talking about working with a debutant, Sreeleela says, "It is a beautiful feeling because I have gone through such a situation myself and I understand how this film is important for Kireeti Reddy. For his first film, Kireeti Reddy has a strong script and is associated with top-notch technicians. This is what makes a good launch vehicle. I'm equally excited to be part of the project."

Does Sreeleela have any tips for the newcomer? "We have been family friends, and I have a gut feeling that this film will work. We will put in our best efforts, and I'd definitely share what I know with him. However, they are way bigger artistes in the film including senior actor, Ravichandran. So they can guide him through, and I too will learn from them," she says.

Sreeleela feels fortunate to be working with the best technicians in her fledgling career. "I remember watching Baahubali, and being wowed by the visuals captured by Senthil Kumar, and I have always enjoyed listening to DSP's songs. Working in a project with both of them is such an exciting prospect."

Sreeleela is happy about how her career is shaping up, and says, "I have a feeling of gratitude within me towards everyone who got me this far."

Shwetha Srivatsav to play the lead in Devika's Chikkiya Mukutti

Shwetha Srivatsav

CE FEATURES

WITH Woman's Day around the corner, Shwetha Srivatsav is happy to have signed a film, which consists of an all women's team. Titled Chikkiya Mukutti, the film directed by Devika revolves around the 'Save a Girl Child' initiative and details of the crew are expected to be shared soon.

"Chikkiya Mukuti is a film made on a high budget. I've been paid a high remuneration, which is unlikely for a female-led project," shares Shwetha. Meanwhile, Shwetha, who has completed shooting for Hope, and is awaiting its release, recently wrapped shooting for Santhosh Ananddram's Raghavendra Stores. The film made under the banner, Hombale Films has her sharing screen space with Jaggesh for the first time.

Shwetha also adds that she is in talks for two big projects, and she will be sharing the details soon.

ENTERTAINING RIDE WITH A MESSAGE

A SHARADHAA

WITH International Women's Day just around the corner, Trilok Reddy's Yellow Board, which revolves around a cab driver and his concern for women's safety, couldn't have been released at a better time. While sending a strong message across with his film, the director also sprinkles romance, comedy, friendship, and a murder mystery into the narrative, which entertains and keeps the audience captivated throughout.

The story is stitched around Kiran (Pradeep), a middle-class youngster and a no-nonsense cab driver, who tries to develop a rapport with his passengers. While he is content with his life and is happy spending time with his love interest Priya (Ahalya Suresh) and fellow cabbie friends, Kiran's life turns topsy-turvy when he is arrested for the murder of his friend, Monisha (Sneha Kushi). Parallelly, we also see how Kiran's initiative to improve the safety of women gets very little support. This is where we see how the equation between Monisha and Kiran was developed, and how he is finally accused of her murder.

How Kiran goes about proving his innocence is what makes the rest of the story, which also touches upon the utility of an app that acts as an emergency alert for women.

Yellow Board is a rare mix of being a clean entertainer and informative to boot. Although Trilok successfully manages to mostly avoid loopholes, he does succumb to the commercial film template and dilutes the script at certain places.

Pradeep as a cab driver has shouldered many responsibilities and he gets good support from Ahalya Suresh, Sadhu Kokila, Chandana Raghavendra, Sneha Kushi, Bhavani Prakash, and Srinivas.

Macroscopically, Yellow Board might be about cab drivers, their lives, and their relationship with passengers, but when you go close enough, we understand that the film's biggest takeaway is its commentary on women's safety.

Divya Suresh

Divya Suresh to star alongside Rajavardan in Hiranya

CE FEATURES

DIVYA Suresh, who gained popularity post her stint in Bigg Boss Kannada Season 8, played the waiting game before signing her next project. The actor, who made her debut with Rowdy Baby, will now be part of Rajavardan-starrer Hiranya.

Talking about the commercial entertainer, which is directed by Prawin Avyukth, Divya Suresh says, "Rajavardan and I are good friends. We have always wanted to team up for a project, and it has finally come through with Hiranya." Divya goes on to add that there is a comfort zone when it comes to working with a friend. "It especially helps me to be natural on the sets, and in front of the camera. With Rajavardan in the picture, I don't need to push myself to play a particular scene."

Rajavardan

Divya is the latest to join the cast of Hiranya, which also has Rihana making her debut. "I am instructed not to give out any details about the role. At this moment, all I can say is that the character I play is important and special. Another reason to pick this project is that I have a dance number in this film."

Backed by producers Vigneshwara U and Vijay Kumar BV under the banner, Vedas Infinite Pictures, Hiranya is currently on floors, and has Divya Suresh joining the sets from March 9.

While Judah Sandy is in charge of the music of Hiranya, Yogeshwaran will handle the cinematography.

A moving-yet-grim reflection of reality

A SHARADHAA

FILMMAKEr Prerana Agarwal delves into serious themes like child labour and child trafficking in her directorial debut, Sold. The film, based on real incidents, is disturbing, but allows the core message to come across.

Sold revolves around Raghu (Deepam Kohli), who is forced to resign from his regular job to join his family's illegal business of child trafficking. His father, Lal Singh (Hanumanthe Gowda), gives him a task to abduct a child, Rashmi (Shivani Ballakuraya), and strike a deal with a Sheikh.

Ruchita (Kavya Shetty), an investigative journalist, gets to hear the news and sets out to find the missing child. Ruchita takes the help of Siddharth (Danish Sait), a cop, and her husband with whom she is not on good terms. She pulls all strings to crack down and destroy all those behind the misery of the missing child.

With Sold, Prerana Agarwal joins the band of filmmakers who highlight sensitive topics in their works. The background score elevates the cat-and-mouse narrative that revolves around the journalist, gangsters, and the child.

While Kavya Shetty has played her part well, Deepam Kohli, also the producer, has showcased the dilemma of a son, who is caught in the clutches of his father, and is forced to put his life at stake. We also have an earnest performance by Shivani Ballakuraya, who holds her own in a film that has noteworthy performances by Siddhtakesarth Madhyamika, Bhavani Prakash, Hanumanthe Gowda, and Danish Sait.

Sold is definitely a grim tale but it is a reality that should not, and more importantly, cannot be ignored.
